GIGALEARN · TEACHER PROMOTION PRACTICE

Director II (D II)

550 distinct practice questions with answers (target 550 · gap 0)
MCQ: 465 · True/False: 85 · Verified: 0 · Review required: all published items

This is an independent GigaLearn practice resource, not an official Ghana Education Service examination paper. Cross-rank duplicate stems were removed so the same question is not counted in multiple rank banks. Answer keys remain SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED.
Rank focus: Strategic planning, governance, policy implementation.

Practice question bank

Question 1 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as a Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound data and research judgement?

A. Selecting only evidence that supports a preference
B. Treating one anecdote as conclusive
C. Ignoring missing data
D. Using representative and appropriate data

Answer: D. Using representative and appropriate data

Explanation: Using representative and appropriate data is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Selecting only evidence that supports a preference: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Treating one anecdote as conclusive: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Ignoring missing data: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Using representative and appropriate data: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 2 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of data and research, what should be prioritised?

A. Publishing names unnecessarily
B. Protecting participants' privacy and obtaining appropriate consent
C. Collecting identifiable data without safeguards
D. Using data for an undisclosed purpose

Answer: B. Protecting participants' privacy and obtaining appropriate consent

Explanation: Protecting participants' privacy and obtaining appropriate consent is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Publishing names unnecessarily: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Protecting participants' privacy and obtaining appropriate consent: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Collecting identifiable data without safeguards: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Using data for an undisclosed purpose: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 3 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of equity and access, what should be prioritised?

A. Reporting only an overall average
B. Hiding group-level disparities
C. Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes
D. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme

Answer: D. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme

Explanation: Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme is best because it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in equity and access, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Reporting only an overall average: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Hiding group-level disparities: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme: it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 4 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of leadership and communication, what should be prioritised?

A. Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log
B. Keeping actions ownerless
C. Meeting without purpose or follow-up
D. Recording opinions but no decisions

Answer: A. Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log

Explanation: Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Keeping actions ownerless: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Meeting without purpose or follow-up: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Recording opinions but no decisions: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 5 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of leadership and governance, what should be prioritised?

A. Escalating issues through the appropriate reporting line when required
B. Hiding serious risks
C. Bypassing safeguards for convenience
D. Escalating every minor matter without judgement

Answer: A. Escalating issues through the appropriate reporting line when required

Explanation: Escalating issues through the appropriate reporting line when required is best because it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Escalating issues through the appropriate reporting line when required: it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hiding serious risks: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Bypassing safeguards for convenience: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Escalating every minor matter without judgement: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 6 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of planning and evaluation, what should be prioritised?

A. Ignoring intended beneficiaries
B. Counting workshops as proof of impact
C. Measuring only money spent
D. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities

Answer: D. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities

Explanation: Evaluating outcomes as well as activities is best because it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in planning and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring intended beneficiaries: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Counting workshops as proof of impact: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Measuring only money spent: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Evaluating outcomes as well as activities: it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 7 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of risk and compliance, what should be prioritised?
A. Proportionate action based on severity, likelihood and applicable rules
B. Treating every risk as identical
C. Ignoring high-impact low-frequency risks
D. Using severity alone without context
Answer: A. Proportionate action based on severity, likelihood and applicable rules
Explanation: Proportionate action based on severity, likelihood and applicable rules is best because it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Proportionate action based on severity, likelihood and applicable rules: it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treating every risk as identical: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring high-impact low-frequency risks: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using severity alone without context: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 8 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of stakeholder engagement, what should be prioritised?
A. Excluding directly affected groups
B. Inviting everyone to every decision regardless of purpose
C. Mapping stakeholders by role, interest and appropriate involvement
D. Assuming one representative speaks for all
Answer: C. Mapping stakeholders by role, interest and appropriate involvement
Explanation: Mapping stakeholders by role, interest and appropriate involvement is best because it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Excluding directly affected groups: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Inviting everyone to every decision regardless of purpose: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Mapping stakeholders by role, interest and appropriate involvement: it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming one representative speaks for all: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 9 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of statistics and reporting, what should be prioritised?
A. Reporting a percentage without explaining its base
B. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful

C. Changing the denominator to improve appearance
D. Comparing unlike groups without context
Answer: B. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful
Explanation: Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful is best because it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in statistics and reporting, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Reporting a percentage without explaining its base: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful: it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Changing the denominator to improve appearance: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Comparing unlike groups without context: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 10 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 3 Which is an example of professional reflection?
A. Blame learners for every difficulty
B. Ignore feedback
C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
D. Repeat lessons without review
Answer: C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
Explanation: Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame learners for every difficulty: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Repeat lessons without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 11 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 5 Why analyse assessment results?
A. Rank learners publicly
B. Avoid future planning
C. Replace all observation
D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps
Answer: D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps
Explanation: Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rank learners publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Avoid future planning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Replace all observation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 12 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 7 Which assessment best matches an objective to compare two ideas?

A. A task requiring comparison
B. An unrelated spelling test
C. An attendance register
D. A task asking only for a date

Answer: A. A task requiring comparison

Explanation: A task requiring comparison is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — A task requiring comparison: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — An unrelated spelling test: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — An attendance register: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — A task asking only for a date: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 13 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 9 Which practice promotes critical thinking?

A. Accept every claim without examination
B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence
C. Require copying only
D. Discourage questions

Answer: B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence

Explanation: Ask learners to justify claims with evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Accept every claim without examination: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Ask learners to justify claims with evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Require copying only: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Discourage questions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 14 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 11 One data point always proves the cause of a school problem. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 15 · TRUE / FALSE

Formative assessment can help a teacher adjust instruction during learning. TRUE GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 21 FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 16 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 22 Monitoring shows an intervention is not working. What next?
A. Blame one person without inquiry
B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
C. Hide results
D. Continue indefinitely
Answer: B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
Explanation: Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame one person without inquiry: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide results: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Continue indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 17 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 24 Which is a measurable improvement target?
A. Make the school perfect
B. Work harder without evidence
C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
D. Improve everything someday
Answer: C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
Explanation: Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Make the school perfect: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Work harder without evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Improve everything someday: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 18 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 26 What should guide selection of a teaching resource?
A. Colour alone
B. Price alone
C. Whether it avoids the objective
D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility
Answer: D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility
Explanation: Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Colour alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Price alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Whether it avoids the objective: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 19 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 28 What is sound data-informed leadership?

A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement
B. Treat one figure as the whole truth
C. Ignore context
D. Alter records to fit expectations

Answer: A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement

Explanation: Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat one figure as the whole truth: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Alter records to fit expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 20 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 30 Collaborative planning can help teachers share expertise. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 21 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 41 Many learners misunderstand a concept. What should the teacher do?

A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
B. Continue without adjustment
C. Blame the learners
D. Remove the topic

Answer: A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding

Explanation: Re-teach with another approach and check understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Re-teach with another approach and check understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Continue without adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Blame the learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Remove the topic: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 22 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 43 Which action best supports inclusive participation?

A. Lower expectations for everyone
B. Adapt support to learners' needs
C. Give identical support regardless of need
D. Exclude learners who need accommodations

Answer: B. Adapt support to learners' needs

Explanation: Adapt support to learners' needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Lower expectations for everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt support to learners' needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Give identical support regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Exclude learners who need accommodations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 23 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 45 Which approach best supports a new teacher?

A. Avoid feedback until year end
B. Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure
C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
D. Assign duties without explanation

Answer: C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice

Explanation: Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Avoid feedback until year end: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assign duties without explanation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 24 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 47 What is an useful first step in planning an intervention?

A. Choose an activity before identifying need
B. Promise results without baseline data
C. Avoid consultation
D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Answer: D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Explanation: Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Choose an activity before identifying need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Promise results without baseline data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoid consultation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 25 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 49 A rubric can describe criteria for different performance levels. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 26 · TRUE / FALSE

Assessment should align with the learning objective it measures. TRUE GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 59 FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 27 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 60 What is the best use of classroom observation?

A. Judge personal style alone
B. Embarrass the teacher
C. Conclude without observing
D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Answer: D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Explanation: Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Judge personal style alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Embarrass the teacher: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conclude without observing: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 28 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 62 What helps a school improvement plan succeed?

A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
B. Goals without owners
C. No evidence collection

D. Daily changes without rationale
Answer: A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
Explanation: Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Goals without owners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No evidence collection: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Daily changes without rationale: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 29 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 64 What does differentiated instruction aim to do?
A. Use one method regardless of need
B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
C. Remove all challenge
D. Ignore evidence
Answer: B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
Explanation: Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Use one method regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Remove all challenge: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 30 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 66 How should confidential learner information be handled?
A. Discuss it casually in public
B. Send it to all contacts
C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
D. Post it publicly
Answer: C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
Explanation: Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Discuss it casually in public: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Send it to all contacts: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Post it publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 31 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 68 If an intervention is not working, leaders should never change it. TRUE

FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 32 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should promise absolute secrecy about a safeguarding concern. TRUE GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 78 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 33 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 79 Which is an example of ethical leadership?
A. Hide decisions from oversight
B. Favour relatives regardless of criteria
C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
D. Use public resources for personal gain
Answer: C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
Explanation: Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide decisions from oversight: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Favour relatives regardless of criteria: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use public resources for personal gain: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 34 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 81 What is the purpose of a staff meeting agenda?
A. Prevent preparation
B. Replace follow-up
C. List unrelated topics without priorities
D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation
Answer: D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation
Explanation: Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Prevent preparation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Replace follow-up: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — List unrelated topics without priorities: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 35 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 83 How should digital learning tools be used responsibly?

A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
B. Assume every answer is correct
C. Upload private data anywhere
D. Use technology even when it obstructs learning

Answer: A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value

Explanation: Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assume every answer is correct: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Upload private data anywhere: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Use technology even when it obstructs learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 36 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 85 What is the purpose of a rubric?

A. Hide expectations
B. Describe criteria and performance levels
C. Replace task instructions
D. Guarantee identical scores

Answer: B. Describe criteria and performance levels

Explanation: Describe criteria and performance levels is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Describe criteria and performance levels: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace task instructions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee identical scores: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 37 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 87 A respectful classroom climate can support learner participation. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 38 · TRUE / FALSE

Clear success criteria help learners understand expectations. TRUE GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 97 FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 39 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 98 What is a benefit of collaborative lesson planning?

A. It makes all classes identical
B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
C. It removes the need to assess
D. It guarantees no challenges
Answer: B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
Explanation: Teachers share expertise and align goals is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — It makes all classes identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Teachers share expertise and align goals: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — It removes the need to assess: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — It guarantees no challenges: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 40 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ D II Practice Page 100 What is a scheme of learning used for?

A. Record only staff leave
B. Make every lesson identical
C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time
D. Replace the curriculum
Answer: C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time
Explanation: Organise curriculum content and learning over time is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Record only staff leave: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Make every lesson identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Organise curriculum content and learning over time: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace the curriculum: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 41 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 42 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 43 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 44 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 45 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 46 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 47 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 7: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 48 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 49 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 50 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 51 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 52 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 53 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 54 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 14: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 55 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 56 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 57 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 58 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 59 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 60 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 61 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 21: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 62 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during subject panel discussions, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 63 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 64 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 65 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 66 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 67 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 68 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 28: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 69 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 70 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 71 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 72 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 73 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 74 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 75 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 35: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 76 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when moderating end-of-term scripts, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 77 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 78 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 79 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 80 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 81 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 82 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 42: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 83 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records following a learner wellbeing referral, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 84 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 85 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 86 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 87 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 88 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 89 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 49: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 90 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 91 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 92 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 93 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 94 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 95 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 96 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 56: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 97 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 98 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 99 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 100 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 101 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 102 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 103 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 63: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 104 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 105 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 106 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 107 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 108 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 109 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 110 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 70: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 111 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 112 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 113 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 114 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 115 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 116 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 117 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 77: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 118 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 119 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 120 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 121 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during subject panel discussions, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 122 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 123 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 124 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 84: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 125 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 126 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 127 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 128 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 129 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 130 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 131 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 91: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 132 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 133 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances while setting department performance targets, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 134 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 135 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 136 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 137 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 138 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 98: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 139 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 140 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director

II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 141 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 142 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 143 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records ahead of a circuit quality visit, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 144 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 145 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 105: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True

B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 146 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists

B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 147 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups

B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 148 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 149 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 150 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 151 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 152 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 112: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 153 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 154 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 155 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 156 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 157 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 158 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a parents' association meeting, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 159 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 119: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 160 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 161 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 162 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 163 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 164 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 165 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 166 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 126: In a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 167 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 168 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 169 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 170 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 171 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 172 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 173 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 133: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 174 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 175 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 176 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 177 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 178 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 179 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 180 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 140: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 181 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 182 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 183 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 184 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 185 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 186 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 187 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 147: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 188 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 189 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 190 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 191 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 192 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 193 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 194 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 154: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 195 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while setting department performance targets, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 196 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 197 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 198 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 199 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 200 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 201 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 161: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 202 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 203 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 204 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 205 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 206 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 207 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 208 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 168: In a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 209 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 210 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 211 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 212 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 213 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 175: In a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 214 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 215 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 216 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while setting department performance targets, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 217 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 218 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 219 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 182: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 220 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during mid-term review week, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 221 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 222 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 223 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 224 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 225 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 226 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 189: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 227 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 228 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 229 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 230 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 231 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 232 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 233 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 196: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 234 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 235 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 236 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 237 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 238 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 239 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 240 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 203: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 241 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 242 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 243 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 244 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 245 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 246 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 247 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 210: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 248 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 249 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 250 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 251 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 252 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 253 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 254 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 217: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 255 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 256 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 257 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 258 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 259 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 260 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 261 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 224: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 262 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 263 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 264 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 265 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 266 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 267 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 268 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 231: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 269 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 270 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 271 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 272 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 273 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 274 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 238: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 275 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 276 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when reviewing lesson observation notes, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 277 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 278 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 279 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 280 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 281 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 245: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 282 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 283 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 284 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 285 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 286 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 287 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 288 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 252: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 289 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 290 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 291 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 292 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 293 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 294 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 295 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 259: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 296 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 297 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 298 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 299 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 300 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 301 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 302 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 266: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 303 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 304 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 305 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 306 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 307 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 308 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 309 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 273: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 310 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 311 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while setting department performance targets, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 312 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 313 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 314 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 315 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 316 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 280: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 317 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 318 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 319 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 320 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 321 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 322 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 323 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 287: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 324 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 325 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 326 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 327 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 328 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 329 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 330 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 294: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a

Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 331 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 332 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 333 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 334 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 335 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 336 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 337 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 301: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 338 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 339 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 340 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 341 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 342 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 343 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 344 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 308: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 345 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when reviewing lesson observation notes, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 346 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 347 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention ahead of a circuit quality visit, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 348 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 349 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 350 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 315: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 351 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context

D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 352 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 353 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 354 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 355 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 356 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 357 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 322: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 358 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 359 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 360 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 361 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 362 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 363 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 364 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 329: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 365 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 366 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 367 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 368 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 369 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 370 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 336: In a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 371 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 372 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 373 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 374 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 375 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 376 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 377 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 343: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 378 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 379 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 380 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a near-miss safety incident, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 381 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 382 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 350: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during subject panel discussions, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 383 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 384 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 385 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan,

department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 386 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 387 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 388 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 389 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 357: In a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 390 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 391 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 392 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 393 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 394 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 395 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances while setting department performance targets, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 396 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 364: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 397 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 398 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 399 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 400 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 401 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 371: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 402 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 403 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 404 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 405 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 406 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 407 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 408 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 378: In a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 409 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 410 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 411 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director

II?
A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 412 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?
A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 413 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 414 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 415 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 385: In a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 416 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 417 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 418 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 419 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 420 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 421 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 422 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 392: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 423 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 424 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 425 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 426 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 427 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 428 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 429 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 399: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 430 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 431 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 432 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 433 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 434 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 435 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 436 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 406: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 437 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 438 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 439 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 440 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 441 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 442 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 413: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 443 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 444 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 445 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 446 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 447 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 448 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 449 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 420: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 450 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 451 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 452 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 453 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 454 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 455 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 427: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 456 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 457 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 458 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 459 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 460 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 434: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 461 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 462 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 463 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 464 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 465 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 466 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 467 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 441: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 468 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 469 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 470 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when reviewing lesson observation notes, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 471 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 472 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 473 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 474 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 448: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 475 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 476 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 477 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 478 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 479 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while reallocating limited teaching aids, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Answer: D. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 480 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 455: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 481 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 482 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 483 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Answer: D. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 484 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 485 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 486 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 487 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 462: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 488 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 489 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 490 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 491 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 492 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 493 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 469: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, a Director II may skip documented procedures in accountability frameworks whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 494 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 495 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 496 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 497 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 498 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 476: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, a Director II strengthens budget stewardship when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 499 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 500 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 501 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 502 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 503 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 504 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 505 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 483: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Director II may skip documented procedures in policy implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 506 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 507 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 508 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 509 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 510 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 511 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 512 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 490: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, a Director II strengthens ethical leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 513 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 514 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 515 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 516 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 517 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 518 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 497: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, a Director II may skip documented procedures in stakeholder governance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 519 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Answer: D. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 520 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during a peer coaching cycle, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 521 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 522 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 523 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 504: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, a Director II strengthens institutional performance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 524 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Answer: D. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 525 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds

Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 526 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?

A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence

Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 527 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while setting department performance targets, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair

Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 528 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 529 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 511: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Director II may skip documented procedures in strategic planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True

B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 530 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups

B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Answer: D. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 531 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups

B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Answer: D. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity

Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 532 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 533 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate workforce planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles

Explanation: Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles is best because it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Forecast staffing needs and build pipelines for critical roles: it applies workforce planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 534 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Answer: D. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 535 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 536 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 518: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, a Director II strengthens system improvement when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 537 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate accountability frameworks response for a Director II?

A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair
Explanation: Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in accountability frameworks, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Make expectations, evidence, and consequences consistent and fair: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 538 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust
Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 539 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Answer: D. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 540 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate governance response for a Director II?

A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting

Explanation: Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting is best because it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separate oversight from day-to-day operations and insist on transparent reporting: it applies governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 541 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps

Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 542 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 525: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Director II may skip documented procedures in workforce planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in workforce planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 543 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate budget stewardship response for a Director II?
A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds
Explanation: Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds is best because it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in budget stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritise spending against strategy and publish clear accountability for use of funds: it applies budget stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 544 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder governance response for a Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Answer: D. Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence
Explanation: Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Balance stakeholder voice with statutory duties and evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 545 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate system improvement response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity

Explanation: Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity is best because it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in system improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Scale what works, retire ineffective practices, and protect equity: it applies system improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 546 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate ethical leadership response for a Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Answer: D. Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust

Explanation: Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Model ethical decisions publicly and refuse shortcuts that harm trust: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 547 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate strategic planning response for a Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones

Explanation: Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones is best because it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in strategic planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Link strategy to measurable outcomes, capacity, and review milestones: it applies strategic planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 548 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 532: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Director II strengthens governance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 549 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy implementation response for a Director II?

A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity
Explanation: Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity is best because it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Translate policy into workable procedures, train staff, and check fidelity: it applies policy implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 550 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a strategic director aligning systems, policy, and performance supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional performance response for a Director II?

A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps
Explanation: Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps is best because it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional performance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Review outcome trends, investigate root causes, and redirect resources to gaps: it applies institutional performance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Source & verification note

Practice resource only. The published set for this rank contains 550 distinct items. No item in this guide is labelled human-verified. Do not cite these keys as official GES examination answers. Cross-rank exact duplicates are not counted toward the 550 target.