GIGALEARN · TEACHER PROMOTION PRACTICE

Assistant Director I (AD I)

550 distinct practice questions with answers (target 550 · gap 0)
MCQ: 469 · True/False: 81 · Verified: 0 · Review required: all published items

This is an independent GigaLearn practice resource, not an official Ghana Education Service examination paper. Cross-rank duplicate stems were removed so the same question is not counted in multiple rank banks. Answer keys remain SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED.
Rank focus: Instructional supervision, staff development, school improvement.

Practice question bank

Question 1 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound communication judgement?

A. Unverified claims without sources
B. A long report without a decision point
C. A report that hides the main finding
D. A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations

Answer: D. A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations

Explanation: A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Unverified claims without sources: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Incorrect — A long report without a decision point: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — A report that hides the main finding: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 2 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which option provides the strongest basis when an improvement is being planned?

A. Sharing the complaint publicly
B. Retaliation against the complainant
C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint
D. Ignoring the complaint without assessment

Answer: C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint

Explanation: A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Sharing the complaint publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.

Incorrect — Retaliation against the complainant: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Ignoring the complaint without assessment: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 3 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound educational technology judgement?

A. Publishing without review
B. Ignoring age and context
C. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
D. Assuming generated content is always correct

Answer: C. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability

Explanation: Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability is best because it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational technology, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Publishing without review: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring age and context: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability: it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming generated content is always correct: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 4 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound human resource management judgement?

A. Allocating duties solely by friendship
B. Assigning all difficult tasks to one person
C. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs
D. Ignoring staff capacity
Answer: C. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs
Explanation: Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs is best because it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in human resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Allocating duties solely by friendship: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assigning all difficult tasks to one person: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs: it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring staff capacity: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 5 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound professional learning judgement?

A. Assuming every method transfers unchanged
B. Avoiding feedback from colleagues
C. Keeping all successful methods private
D. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Answer: D. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Explanation: Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assuming every method transfers unchanged: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Avoiding feedback from colleagues: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Keeping all successful methods private: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Correct — Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 6 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound professional practice judgement?

A. Favouritism in professional decisions
B. Sharing inappropriate personal content with learners
C. Using authority for personal advantage
D. Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct
Answer: D. Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct
Explanation: Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Favouritism in professional decisions: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Sharing inappropriate personal content with learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using authority for personal advantage: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 7 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of communication, what should be prioritised?
A. Adapting communication to audience and purpose
B. Avoiding accessible language
C. Using one format for every situation
D. Omitting essential context
Answer: A. Adapting communication to audience and purpose
Explanation: Adapting communication to audience and purpose is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapting communication to audience and purpose: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Avoiding accessible language: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using one format for every situation: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Omitting essential context: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 8 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound communication judgement?
A. Ignoring the complaint without assessment
B. Retaliation against the complainant
C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint
D. Sharing the complaint publicly
Answer: C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint
Explanation: A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring the complaint without assessment: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Retaliation against the complainant: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Sharing the complaint publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 9 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of digital and information literacy, what should be prioritised?

A. Trusting a post because it is popular
B. Forwarding an unverified claim
C. Verifying the source, date and context of online information
D. Treating an image as proof without context

Answer: C. Verifying the source, date and context of online information

Explanation: Verifying the source, date and context of online information is best because it applies digital and information literacy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital and information literacy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Trusting a post because it is popular: it does not apply the digital and information literacy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Forwarding an unverified claim: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Correct — Verifying the source, date and context of online information: it applies digital and information literacy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treating an image as proof without context: it does not apply the digital and information literacy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 10 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound digital and information literacy judgement?

A. Choosing novelty over learning needs
B. Uploading confidential data to unapproved tools
C. Using technology regardless of learner access
D. Accessible, secure and purpose-appropriate use of digital tools

Answer: D. Accessible, secure and purpose-appropriate use of digital tools

Explanation: Accessible, secure and purpose-appropriate use of digital tools is best because it applies digital and information literacy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital and information literacy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Choosing novelty over learning needs: it does not apply the digital and information literacy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Uploading confidential data to unapproved tools: it does not apply the digital and information literacy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Using technology regardless of learner access: it does not apply the digital and information literacy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Accessible, secure and purpose-appropriate use of digital tools: it applies digital and information literacy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 11 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound educational assessment judgement?

A. Portfolio assessment
B. Norm-referenced assessment
C. Criterion-referenced assessment
D. Diagnostic assessment

Answer: B. Norm-referenced assessment

Explanation: Norm-referenced assessment is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Portfolio assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Norm-referenced assessment: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Criterion-referenced assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Diagnostic assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 12 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound examination integrity judgement?

A. Promising to conceal misconduct
B. Protecting assessment materials and reporting suspected leakage
C. Sharing confidential papers informally
D. Ignoring suspicious access

Answer: B. Protecting assessment materials and reporting suspected leakage

Explanation: Protecting assessment materials and reporting suspected leakage is best because it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in examination integrity, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Promising to conceal misconduct: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Correct — Protecting assessment materials and reporting suspected leakage: it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Sharing confidential papers informally: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring suspicious access: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 13 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of human resource management, what should be prioritised?

A. Applying rules selectively
B. Punishment without hearing the employee
C. Fair, documented and timely disciplinary procedures
D. Informal public shaming

Answer: C. Fair, documented and timely disciplinary procedures

Explanation: Fair, documented and timely disciplinary procedures is best because it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in human resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Applying rules selectively: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Punishment without hearing the employee: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Fair, documented and timely disciplinary procedures: it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Informal public shaming: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 14 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of leadership and supervision, what should be prioritised?

A. Inspection based only on rumours
B. Punishment as the sole supervisory tool
C. Supportive instructional supervision focused on improving teaching
D. Fault-finding without follow-up
Answer: C. Supportive instructional supervision focused on improving teaching
Explanation: Supportive instructional supervision focused on improving teaching is best because it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Inspection based only on rumours: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Incorrect — Punishment as the sole supervisory tool: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Supportive instructional supervision focused on improving teaching: it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Fault-finding without follow-up: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 15 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of learner wellbeing, what should be prioritised?
A. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
B. Ignoring warning signs
C. Investigating alone beyond one's role
D. Sharing identifying details casually
Answer: A. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Explanation: Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Ignoring warning signs: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Investigating alone beyond one's role: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Sharing identifying details casually: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 16 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of professional learning, what should be prioritised?
A. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
B. Assuming every method transfers unchanged
C. Keeping all successful methods private
D. Avoiding feedback from colleagues
Answer: A. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Explanation: Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Assuming every method transfers unchanged: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Keeping all successful methods private: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Incorrect — Avoiding feedback from colleagues: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 17 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of professional practice, what should be prioritised?

A. Assuming experience alone guarantees effectiveness
B. Reflection as blame without improvement
C. Avoiding professional learning
D. Reflective practice linked to evidence and action

Answer: D. Reflective practice linked to evidence and action

Explanation: Reflective practice linked to evidence and action is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Assuming experience alone guarantees effectiveness: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Reflection as blame without improvement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Avoiding professional learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Reflective practice linked to evidence and action: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 18 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve school improvement in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Listing actions without responsibility
B. Using only broad intentions
C. Reviewing progress without records
D. Assigning each action an owner, timeline and success indicator

Answer: D. Assigning each action an owner, timeline and success indicator

Explanation: Assigning each action an owner, timeline and success indicator is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Listing actions without responsibility: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Using only broad intentions: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Reviewing progress without records: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Assigning each action an owner, timeline and success indicator: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 19 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of school-community relations, what should be prioritised?

A. Punishing absence without investigating causes
B. Assuming every absence is deliberate
C. Removing attendance monitoring
D. Using attendance data to identify and address barriers

Answer: D. Using attendance data to identify and address barriers

Explanation: Using attendance data to identify and address barriers is best because it applies school-community relations standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school-community relations, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Punishing absence without investigating causes: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Assuming every absence is deliberate: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Removing attendance monitoring: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Using attendance data to identify and address barriers: it applies school-community relations standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 20 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of work planning, what should be prioritised?

A. Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines
B. Working without a schedule or review
C. Ignoring statutory deadlines
D. Treating every task as equally urgent

Answer: A. Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines

Explanation: Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines is best because it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in work planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines: it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Working without a schedule or review: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring statutory deadlines: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Treating every task as equally urgent: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 21 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve equity and access in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme
B. Hiding group-level disparities
C. Reporting only an overall average
D. Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes

Answer: A. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme

Explanation: Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme is best because it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in equity and access, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme: it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hiding group-level disparities: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Reporting only an overall average: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 22 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound data and research judgement?

A. Correlation does not by itself establish causation
B. Any correlation proves cause
C. A larger sample removes all bias
D. A graph proves causation automatically

Answer: A. Correlation does not by itself establish causation

Explanation: Correlation does not by itself establish causation is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Correlation does not by itself establish causation: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Any correlation proves cause: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A larger sample removes all bias: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A graph proves causation automatically: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 23 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound programme management judgement?

A. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
B. A budget without a delivery plan
C. A report with no responsibilities
D. A list of activities without expected results
Answer: A. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
Explanation: A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates is best because it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in programme management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates: it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A budget without a delivery plan: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A report with no responsibilities: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A list of activities without expected results: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 24 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve planning and evaluation in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities
B. Ignoring intended beneficiaries
C. Measuring only money spent
D. Counting workshops as proof of impact
Answer: A. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities
Explanation: Evaluating outcomes as well as activities is best because it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in planning and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Evaluating outcomes as well as activities: it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring intended beneficiaries: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Measuring only money spent: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Counting workshops as proof of impact: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 25 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director I in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound educational law and policy judgement?

A. Assuming a draft is enacted law
B. Applying a rule outside its scope
C. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
D. Relying on a paraphrase without verification
Answer: C. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
Explanation: Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument is best because it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational law and policy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assuming a draft is enacted law: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Applying a rule outside its scope: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument: it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Relying on a paraphrase without verification: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 26 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
Which practice best supports formative assessment?
A. Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching
B. Wait until the end of the year to assess
C. Give marks without feedback
D. Assess only volunteers
Answer: A. Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching
Explanation: Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Wait until the end of the year to assess: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Give marks without feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assess only volunteers: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 27 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 3 Which is an example of professional reflection?
A. Blame learners for every difficulty
B. Ignore feedback
C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
D. Repeat lessons without review
Answer: C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
Explanation: Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame learners for every difficulty: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Repeat lessons without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 28 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is an useful first step in planning an intervention?

A. Choose an activity before identifying need
B. Promise results without baseline data
C. Avoid consultation
D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Answer: D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Explanation: Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Choose an activity before identifying need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Promise results without baseline data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Avoid consultation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 29 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which action demonstrates equitable treatment?

A. Ignore barriers
B. Use inconsistent rules without reason
C. Apply fair criteria and provide reasonable support for different needs
D. Favour friends

Answer: C. Apply fair criteria and provide reasonable support for different needs

Explanation: Apply fair criteria and provide reasonable support for different needs is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignore barriers: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Use inconsistent rules without reason: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Apply fair criteria and provide reasonable support for different needs: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Favour friends: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 30 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 5 Why analyse assessment results?

A. Rank learners publicly
B. Avoid future planning
C. Replace all observation
D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps

Answer: D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps

Explanation: Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rank learners publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.

Incorrect — Avoid future planning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Replace all observation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 31 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is the purpose of a rubric?

A. Hide expectations
B. Describe criteria and performance levels
C. Replace task instructions
D. Guarantee identical scores

Answer: B. Describe criteria and performance levels

Explanation: Describe criteria and performance levels is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Describe criteria and performance levels: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace task instructions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee identical scores: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 32 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is sound data-informed leadership?

A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement
B. Treat one figure as the whole truth
C. Ignore context
D. Alter records to fit expectations

Answer: A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement

Explanation: Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat one figure as the whole truth: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Alter records to fit expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 33 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 7 Which assessment best matches an objective to compare two ideas?

A. A task requiring comparison
B. An unrelated spelling test
C. An attendance register
D. A task asking only for a date

Answer: A. A task requiring comparison

Explanation: A task requiring comparison is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — A task requiring comparison: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — An unrelated spelling test: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — An attendance register: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A task asking only for a date: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 34 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should suspected plagiarism be handled?

A. Ridicule the learner publicly
B. Ignore all evidence
C. Publish personal details
D. Follow a fair academic-integrity procedure

Answer: D. Follow a fair academic-integrity procedure

Explanation: Follow a fair academic-integrity procedure is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ridicule the learner publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Ignore all evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Publish personal details: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow a fair academic-integrity procedure: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 35 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should confidential learner information be handled?

A. Discuss it casually in public
B. Send it to all contacts
C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
D. Post it publicly

Answer: C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose

Explanation: Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Discuss it casually in public: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Send it to all contacts: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Post it publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 36 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 9 Which practice promotes critical thinking?

A. Accept every claim without examination
B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence
C. Require copying only
D. Discourage questions

Answer: B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence

Explanation: Ask learners to justify claims with evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Accept every claim without examination: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Ask learners to justify claims with evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Require copying only: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discourage questions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 37 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 11 One data point always proves the cause of a school problem. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 38 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which practice promotes critical thinking?

A. Accept every claim without examination
B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence
C. Require copying only
D. Discourage questions

Answer: B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence

Explanation: Ask learners to justify claims with evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Accept every claim without examination: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Ask learners to justify claims with evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Require copying only: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discourage questions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 39 · TRUE / FALSE

Formative assessment can help a teacher adjust instruction during learning. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 21 FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 40 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 22 Monitoring shows an intervention is not working. What next?

A. Blame one person without inquiry
B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
C. Hide results

D. Continue indefinitely
Answer: B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
Explanation: Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame one person without inquiry: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide results: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Continue indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 41 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 24 Which is a measurable improvement target?
A. Make the school perfect
B. Work harder without evidence
C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
D. Improve everything someday
Answer: C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
Explanation: Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Make the school perfect: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Work harder without evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Improve everything someday: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 42 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 26 What should guide selection of a teaching resource?
A. Colour alone
B. Price alone
C. Whether it avoids the objective
D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility
Answer: D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility
Explanation: Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Colour alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Price alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Whether it avoids the objective: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 43 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 28 What is sound data-informed leadership?

A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement
B. Treat one figure as the whole truth
C. Ignore context
D. Alter records to fit expectations
Answer: A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement
Explanation: Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat one figure as the whole truth: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Alter records to fit expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 44 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 30 Collaborative planning can help teachers share expertise. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 45 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 41 Many learners misunderstand a concept. What should the teacher do?
A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
B. Continue without adjustment
C. Blame the learners
D. Remove the topic
Answer: A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
Explanation: Re-teach with another approach and check understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Re-teach with another approach and check understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Continue without adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Blame the learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Remove the topic: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 46 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 43 Which action best supports inclusive participation?
A. Lower expectations for everyone
B. Adapt support to learners' needs
C. Give identical support regardless of need
D. Exclude learners who need accommodations
Answer: B. Adapt support to learners' needs

Explanation: Adapt support to learners' needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Lower expectations for everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt support to learners' needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Give identical support regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Exclude learners who need accommodations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 47 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 45 Which approach best supports a new teacher?
A. Avoid feedback until year end
B. Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure
C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
D. Assign duties without explanation
Answer: C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
Explanation: Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Avoid feedback until year end: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assign duties without explanation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 48 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 47 What is an useful first step in planning an intervention?
A. Choose an activity before identifying need
B. Promise results without baseline data
C. Avoid consultation
D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome
Answer: D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome
Explanation: Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Choose an activity before identifying need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Promise results without baseline data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoid consultation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 49 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 49 A rubric can describe criteria for different performance levels. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 50 · TRUE / FALSE

Assessment should align with the learning objective it measures. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 59 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 51 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 60 What is the best use of classroom observation?
A. Judge personal style alone
B. Embarrass the teacher
C. Conclude without observing
D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Answer: D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Explanation: Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Judge personal style alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Embarrass the teacher: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conclude without observing: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 52 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 62 What helps a school improvement plan succeed?
A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
B. Goals without owners
C. No evidence collection
D. Daily changes without rationale
Answer: A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
Explanation: Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Goals without owners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No evidence collection: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Daily changes without rationale: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 53 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 64 What does differentiated instruction aim to do?

A. Use one method regardless of need
B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
C. Remove all challenge
D. Ignore evidence

Answer: B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs

Explanation: Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Use one method regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Remove all challenge: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 54 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 66 How should confidential learner information be handled?

A. Discuss it casually in public
B. Send it to all contacts
C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
D. Post it publicly

Answer: C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose

Explanation: Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Discuss it casually in public: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Send it to all contacts: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Post it publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 55 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 68 If an intervention is not working, leaders should never change it. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 56 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should promise absolute secrecy about a safeguarding concern. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice

Page 78 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 57 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 79 Which is an example of ethical leadership?
A. Hide decisions from oversight
B. Favour relatives regardless of criteria
C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
D. Use public resources for personal gain
Answer: C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
Explanation: Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide decisions from oversight: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Favour relatives regardless of criteria: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use public resources for personal gain: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 58 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 81 What is the purpose of a staff meeting agenda?
A. Prevent preparation
B. Replace follow-up
C. List unrelated topics without priorities
D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation
Answer: D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation
Explanation: Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Prevent preparation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Replace follow-up: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — List unrelated topics without priorities: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 59 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 83 How should digital learning tools be used responsibly?
A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
B. Assume every answer is correct
C. Upload private data anywhere
D. Use technology even when it obstructs learning
Answer: A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value

Explanation: Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assume every answer is correct: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Upload private data anywhere: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Use technology even when it obstructs learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 60 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 85 What is the purpose of a rubric?
A. Hide expectations
B. Describe criteria and performance levels
C. Replace task instructions
D. Guarantee identical scores
Answer: B. Describe criteria and performance levels
Explanation: Describe criteria and performance levels is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Describe criteria and performance levels: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace task instructions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee identical scores: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 61 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 87 A respectful classroom climate can support learner participation. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 62 · TRUE / FALSE

Clear success criteria help learners understand expectations. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 97 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 63 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 98 What is a benefit of collaborative lesson planning?

A. It makes all classes identical
B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
C. It removes the need to assess
D. It guarantees no challenges

Answer: B. Teachers share expertise and align goals

Explanation: Teachers share expertise and align goals is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — It makes all classes identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Teachers share expertise and align goals: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — It removes the need to assess: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — It guarantees no challenges: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 64 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD I Practice Page 100 What is a scheme of learning used for?

A. Record only staff leave
B. Make every lesson identical
C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time
D. Replace the curriculum

Answer: C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time

Explanation: Organise curriculum content and learning over time is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Record only staff leave: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Make every lesson identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Organise curriculum content and learning over time: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace the curriculum: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 65 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 66 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 67 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 68 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 69 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 70 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 71 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 7: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 72 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 73 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 74 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when reviewing lesson observation notes, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 75 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 76 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 77 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 78 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 14: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 79 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 80 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 81 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 82 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 83 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 84 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 85 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 21: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 86 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an

Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 87 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 88 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when digitising paper assessment records, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 89 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 90 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 91 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 92 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 28: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 93 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while setting department performance targets, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 94 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 95 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 96 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 97 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 98 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 99 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 35: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 100 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 101 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 102 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 103 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 104 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 105 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 106 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 42: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 107 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 108 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 109 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school

aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 110 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 111 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 112 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 113 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 49: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 114 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 115 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 116 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 117 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 118 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 119 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school

supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 120 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 56: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 121 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 122 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 123 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 124 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 125 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 126 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 127 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 63: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 128 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 129 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 130 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 131 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 132 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 133 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 134 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 70: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 135 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 136 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 137 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school

digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 138 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 139 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 140 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 141 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 77: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 142 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 143 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 144 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 145 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 146 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 147 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 148 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 84: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 149 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 150 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 151 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 152 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 153 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 154 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 155 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 91: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 156 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 157 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 158 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 159 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 160 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school

introducing a new subject timetable during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 161 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 162 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 98: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 163 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 164 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 165 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 166 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 167 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 168 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 169 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 105: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 170 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 171 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 172 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 173 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 174 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 175 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 176 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 112: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 177 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 178 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 179 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 180 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 181 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 182 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 183 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 119: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 184 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 185 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 186 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 187 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 188 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 189 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while reallocating limited teaching aids, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 190 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 126: In a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 191 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 192 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 193 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 194 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 195 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 196 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 197 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 133: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 198 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 199 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 200 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 201 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 202 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 203 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original

GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 204 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 140: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 205 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 206 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 207 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 208 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 209 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 210 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms following a learner wellbeing referral, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 211 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 147: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 212 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 213 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 214 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 215 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 216 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 217 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during mid-term review week, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 218 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 154: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 219 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 220 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when digitising paper assessment records, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 221 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 222 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 223 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 224 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 225 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 161: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 226 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 227 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 228 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 229 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 230 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 231 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 232 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 168: In a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 233 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 234 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 235 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 236 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 237 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 238 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 175: In a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 239 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 240 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 241 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 242 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 243 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 244 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 245 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 182: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 246 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 247 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 248 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 249 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 250 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 251 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 189: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 252 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 253 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms ahead of a circuit quality visit, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 254 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 255 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 256 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 257 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 258 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 196: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 259 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 260 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 261 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 262 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 263 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 264 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 203: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 265 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 266 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 267 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 268 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 269 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 270 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 210: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 271 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 272 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 273 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 274 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 275 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 276 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 277 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 217: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 278 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 279 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 280 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 281 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 282 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 283 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 284 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 224: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 285 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 286 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 287 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 288 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 289 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 290 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 291 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 231: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 292 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 293 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 294 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 295 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 296 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 297 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 298 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 238: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 299 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 300 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 301 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 302 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 303 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 304 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 305 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 245: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 306 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 307 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 308 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 309 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 310 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 311 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 312 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 252: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 313 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 314 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 315 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 316 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 317 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 318 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 319 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 259: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 320 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 321 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 322 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 323 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 324 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 325 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 326 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 266: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 327 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 328 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 329 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 330 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 331 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 332 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 333 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 273: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 334 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 335 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 336 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 337 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 338 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 280: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 339 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 340 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 341 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 342 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 343 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 344 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 345 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 287: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 346 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 347 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 348 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 349 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 350 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 294: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 351 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 352 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 353 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 354 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 355 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 356 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 357 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 301: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 358 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 359 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 360 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 361 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 362 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 363 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 364 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 308: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 365 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 366 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 367 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 368 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 369 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 370 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 315: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 371 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 372 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 373 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 374 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 375 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 376 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 377 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 322: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 378 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 379 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 380 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 381 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 382 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 383 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 329: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 384 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 385 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 386 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 387 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 388 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 389 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 336: In a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 390 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 391 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 392 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 393 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 394 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 395 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 396 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 343: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 397 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 398 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 399 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 400 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 401 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 402 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 350: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 403 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 404 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 405 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 406 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 407 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 408 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 409 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 357: In a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 410 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 411 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 412 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 413 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 414 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 415 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 416 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 364: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 417 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 418 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 419 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 420 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 421 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 422 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 423 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 371: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 424 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original

GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 425 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 426 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 427 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 428 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 429 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 430 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 378: In a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 431 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 432 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 433 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 434 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 435 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 436 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 437 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 385: In a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 438 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 439 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 440 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 441 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 442 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 443 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 392: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while planning remedial support for struggling learners, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 444 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 445 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 446 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 447 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 448 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 449 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 450 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 399: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 451 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 452 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 453 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 454 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 455 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 406: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 456 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 457 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 458 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 459 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 460 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 461 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 413: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 462 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 463 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 464 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 465 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 466 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 467 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 420: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 468 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 469 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 470 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 471 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 472 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 473 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 474 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 427: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 475 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 476 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 477 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when moderating end-of-term scripts, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 478 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 479 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 434: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 480 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 481 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 482 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 483 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 484 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 485 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 441: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in instructional supervision whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 486 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 487 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 488 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 489 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 490 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early

Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 491 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 492 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 448: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director I strengthens stakeholder communication when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 493 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 494 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 495 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 496 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only

Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 497 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a parents' association meeting, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle

Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 498 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a parents' association meeting, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 499 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 455: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in curriculum implementation whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 500 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 501 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Answer: D. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 502 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 503 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 504 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Answer: D. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 505 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 462: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director I strengthens staff development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 506 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Answer: D. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 507 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 508 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Answer: D. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 509 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Answer: D. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 510 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 511 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 512 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 469: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 513 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff
Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 514 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 515 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Answer: D. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 516 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 517 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching

Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 518 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery

Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.
Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 519 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 476: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director I strengthens teacher support when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 520 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 521 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 522 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 523 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 524 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 525 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 526 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 483: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in school improvement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 527 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Answer: D. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 528 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 529 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 530 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 531 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 532 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 533 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 490: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director I strengthens inclusive leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 534 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement

Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 535 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 536 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 537 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate assessment leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching
Explanation: Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching is best because it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Moderate samples across classes, calibrate marking, and use results to guide reteaching: it applies assessment leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 538 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate teacher support response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early
Explanation: Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early is best because it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teacher support, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Provide mentoring, protect planning time where possible, and address workload risks early: it applies teacher support standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 539 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 497: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director I may skip documented procedures in quality assurance whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 540 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 541 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 542 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate inclusive leadership response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Answer: D. Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff

Explanation: Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Model inclusive expectations and remove structural barriers that exclude learners or staff: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 543 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a near-miss safety incident, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate instructional supervision response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement
Explanation: Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement is best because it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in instructional supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Observe lessons with agreed criteria, give timely actionable feedback, and follow up on improvement: it applies instructional supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 544 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff development response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only
Explanation: Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Identify skill gaps from evidence and organise targeted coaching rather than one-off workshops only: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 545 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate school improvement response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle
Explanation: Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle is best because it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set a few measurable priorities, assign owners, and review progress with data each cycle: it applies school improvement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 546 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 504: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director I strengthens assessment leadership when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in assessment leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 547 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when reviewing lesson observation notes, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum implementation response for an Assistant Director I?
A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery
Explanation: Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery is best because it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum implementation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Support teachers to interpret curriculum intent and remove barriers to consistent delivery: it applies curriculum implementation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 548 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate quality assurance response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions

Explanation: Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use transparent checks, document findings, and convert gaps into improvement actions: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 549 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate stakeholder communication response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Answer: D. Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification

Explanation: Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification is best because it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share accurate information with the right audience at the right time and invite clarification: it applies stakeholder communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 550 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an instructional supervisor and school improvement lead supporting a boarding house cohort in a school

responding to community concerns about discipline ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director I?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Source & verification note

Practice resource only. The published set for this rank contains 550 distinct items. No item in this guide is labelled human-verified. Do not cite these keys as official GES examination answers. Cross-rank exact duplicates are not counted toward the 550 target.