GIGALEARN · TEACHER PROMOTION PRACTICE

Assistant Director II (AD II)

550 distinct practice questions with answers (target 550 · gap 0)
MCQ: 447 · True/False: 103 · Verified: 0 · Review required: all published items

This is an independent GigaLearn practice resource, not an official Ghana Education Service examination paper. Cross-rank duplicate stems were removed so the same question is not counted in multiple rank banks. Answer keys remain SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED.
Rank focus: Classroom practice, assessment, curriculum, ethics, teaching and learning.

Practice question bank

Question 1 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound educational assessment judgement?
A. Reliability
B. Validity
C. Speed of marking
D. Fairness alone
Answer: A. Reliability
Explanation: Reliability is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Reliability: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Validity: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Speed of marking: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Fairness alone: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 2 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound learner wellbeing judgement?
A. Sharing identifying details casually
B. Ignoring warning signs
C. Investigating alone beyond one's role
D. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Answer: D. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Explanation: Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Sharing identifying details casually: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Ignoring warning signs: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Investigating alone beyond one's role: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Correct — Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 3 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound numerical reasoning judgement?
A. The maximum value
B. The median is the middle ordered value
C. The most frequent value only
D. The sum divided by the count
Answer: B. The median is the middle ordered value
Explanation: The median is the middle ordered value is best because the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in numerical reasoning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — The maximum value: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Correct — The median is the middle ordered value: the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean.

Incorrect — The most frequent value only: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Incorrect — The sum divided by the count: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 4 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound teaching and learning judgement?

A. Passive copying throughout the lesson
B. Teacher talk without learner response
C. Assessment without instruction
D. Active learning
Answer: D. Active learning
Explanation: Active learning is best because active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Passive copying throughout the lesson: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Incorrect — Teacher talk without learner response: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Incorrect — Assessment without instruction: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Correct — Active learning: active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 5 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of curriculum, what should be prioritised?

A. Following a plan despite clear failure
B. Ignoring learning evidence
C. Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence
D. Replacing the curriculum with personal preference
Answer: C. Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence
Explanation: Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence is best because curriculum decisions should respond to evidence of what learners understand and still need. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Following a plan despite clear failure: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Incorrect — Ignoring learning evidence: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Correct — Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence: curriculum decisions should respond to evidence of what learners understand and still need.
Incorrect — Replacing the curriculum with personal preference: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 6 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve curriculum in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Teaching only the easiest content
B. Changing objectives after marking
C. Alignment among objectives, instruction and assessment
D. Assessment unrelated to objectives
Answer: C. Alignment among objectives, instruction and assessment
Explanation: Alignment among objectives, instruction and assessment is best because objectives, instruction, and assessment must align so marks reflect intended learning. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Teaching only the easiest content: misalignment between objectives, teaching, and assessment undermines fair measurement of learning.
Incorrect — Changing objectives after marking: misalignment between objectives, teaching, and assessment undermines fair measurement of learning.
Correct — Alignment among objectives, instruction and assessment: objectives, instruction, and assessment must align so marks reflect intended learning.
Incorrect — Assessment unrelated to objectives: misalignment between objectives, teaching, and assessment undermines fair measurement of learning.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 7 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound curriculum judgement?

A. Following a plan despite clear failure
B. Replacing the curriculum with personal preference
C. Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence
D. Ignoring learning evidence

Answer: C. Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence

Explanation: Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence is best because curriculum decisions should respond to evidence of what learners understand and still need. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Following a plan despite clear failure: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Incorrect — Replacing the curriculum with personal preference: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Correct — Curriculum implementation informed by learner evidence: curriculum decisions should respond to evidence of what learners understand and still need.
Incorrect — Ignoring learning evidence: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 8 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound curriculum judgement?

A. A record of staff attendance
B. A list of punishments
C. A school inventory
D. A scheme of learning that sequences content over time

Answer: D. A scheme of learning that sequences content over time

Explanation: A scheme of learning that sequences content over time is best because it applies curriculum standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — A record of staff attendance: it does not apply the curriculum principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A list of punishments: it does not apply the curriculum principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A school inventory: it does not apply the curriculum principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A scheme of learning that sequences content over time: it applies curriculum standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 9 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve digital and information literacy in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Sharing every file publicly
B. Deleting records without a retention policy
C. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
D. One unprotected copy on one device

Answer: C. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
Explanation: Keeping backups and controlling access to important records is best because secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital and information literacy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Sharing every file publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Deleting records without a retention policy: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Correct — Keeping backups and controlling access to important records: secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability.
Incorrect — One unprotected copy on one device: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 10 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound digital and information literacy judgement?

A. One unprotected copy on one device
B. Sharing every file publicly
C. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
D. Deleting records without a retention policy
Answer: C. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
Explanation: Keeping backups and controlling access to important records is best because secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital and information literacy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — One unprotected copy on one device: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Sharing every file publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Correct — Keeping backups and controlling access to important records: secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability.
Incorrect — Deleting records without a retention policy: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 11 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound digital and information literacy judgement?

A. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
B. One unprotected copy on one device
C. Sharing every file publicly
D. Deleting records without a retention policy
Answer: A. Keeping backups and controlling access to important records
Explanation: Keeping backups and controlling access to important records is best because secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital and information literacy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Keeping backups and controlling access to important records: secure backups and controlled access protect records that schools need for continuity and accountability.
Incorrect — One unprotected copy on one device: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Sharing every file publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.

Incorrect — Deleting records without a retention policy: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 12 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of educational assessment, what should be prioritised?

A. An unwritten expectation
B. A rule changed after marking
C. A clear assessment rubric
D. A single overall impression

Answer: C. A clear assessment rubric

Explanation: A clear assessment rubric is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — An unwritten expectation: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A rule changed after marking: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A clear assessment rubric: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A single overall impression: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 13 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve educational assessment in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Informal observation only
B. Diagnostic screening only
C. Summative assessment
D. Formative feedback

Answer: C. Summative assessment

Explanation: Summative assessment is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Informal observation only: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Diagnostic screening only: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Summative assessment: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Formative feedback: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 14 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound educational assessment judgement?

A. A single overall impression
B. A clear assessment rubric
C. An unwritten expectation
D. A rule changed after marking

Answer: B. A clear assessment rubric

Explanation: A clear assessment rubric is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — A single overall impression: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — A clear assessment rubric: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — An unwritten expectation: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A rule changed after marking: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 15 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which assessment approach is used before or at the start of instruction to identify learner strengths and gaps?

A. Summative assessment only
B. Formative assessment after final grading
C. Diagnostic assessment
D. Ranking learners without identifying gaps

Answer: C. Diagnostic assessment

Explanation: Diagnostic assessment is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Summative assessment only: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Formative assessment after final grading: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Diagnostic assessment: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ranking learners without identifying gaps: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 16 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which assessment approach gathers evidence during teaching so instruction can be adjusted before a final grade?

A. Formative assessment
B. Summative assessment
C. Norm-referenced ranking only
D. Assessment used only for school publicity

Answer: A. Formative assessment

Explanation: Formative assessment is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Formative assessment: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Summative assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Norm-referenced ranking only: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assessment used only for school publicity: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 17 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which assessment approach is primarily used to summarise achievement at the end of an unit or course?

A. Formative assessment
B. Diagnostic assessment
C. Summative assessment
D. Ignoring evidence from learner work

Answer: C. Summative assessment

Explanation: Summative assessment is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Formative assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Diagnostic assessment: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Summative assessment: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring evidence from learner work: it does not apply the educational assessment principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 18 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

When judging whether a test measures the intended learning outcome, which quality should be prioritised?
A. Speed of marking
B. Validity
C. Fairness alone without relevance
D. Reliability without checking intended meaning
Answer: B. Validity
Explanation: Validity is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Speed of marking: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Correct — Validity: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Fairness alone without relevance: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Reliability without checking intended meaning: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 19 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of educational technology, what should be prioritised?
A. Publishing without review
B. Assuming generated content is always correct
C. Ignoring age and context
D. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
Answer: D. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
Explanation: Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability is best because it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational technology, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Publishing without review: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming generated content is always correct: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring age and context: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability: it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 20 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve educational technology in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Assuming every learner has identical connectivity
B. Selecting tools based on learning objectives, accessibility, privacy and cost
C. Sharing learner data without safeguards
D. Choosing the newest tool regardless of need
Answer: B. Selecting tools based on learning objectives, accessibility, privacy and cost

Explanation: Selecting tools based on learning objectives, accessibility, privacy and cost is best because it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational technology, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assuming every learner has identical connectivity: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Selecting tools based on learning objectives, accessibility, privacy and cost: it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Sharing learner data without safeguards: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Choosing the newest tool regardless of need: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 21 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound educational technology judgement?

A. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
B. Assuming generated content is always correct
C. Ignoring age and context
D. Publishing without review

Answer: A. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
Explanation: Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability is best because it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational technology, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability: it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming generated content is always correct: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring age and context: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Publishing without review: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 22 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of inclusive education, what should be prioritised?

A. Separating learners automatically
B. Assuming support lowers expectations
C. Ignoring learner voice
D. Removing barriers to participation while maintaining meaningful learning goals

Answer: D. Removing barriers to participation while maintaining meaningful learning goals
Explanation: Removing barriers to participation while maintaining meaningful learning goals is best because it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Separating learners automatically: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming support lowers expectations: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring learner voice: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Removing barriers to participation while maintaining meaningful learning goals: it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 23 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve inclusive education in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Removing all learning objectives
B. Assessing only speed
C. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning
D. Requiring one response format for every learner

Answer: C. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning

Explanation: Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning is best because it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Removing all learning objectives: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Assessing only speed: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning: it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Requiring one response format for every learner: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 24 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound inclusive education judgement?

A. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning
B. Removing all learning objectives
C. Requiring one response format for every learner
D. Assessing only speed

Answer: A. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning

Explanation: Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning is best because it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning: it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Removing all learning objectives: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Requiring one response format for every learner: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Assessing only speed: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 25 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound inclusive education judgement?

A. Assessing only speed
B. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning
C. Requiring one response format for every learner
D. Removing all learning objectives

Answer: B. Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning

Explanation: Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning is best because it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Assessing only speed: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Using accessible materials and flexible ways to demonstrate learning: it applies inclusive education standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Requiring one response format for every learner: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Removing all learning objectives: it does not apply the inclusive education principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 26 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve learner wellbeing in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Investigating alone beyond one's role
B. Ignoring warning signs
C. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
D. Sharing identifying details casually
Answer: C. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Explanation: Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Investigating alone beyond one's role: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Ignoring warning signs: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Correct — Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Sharing identifying details casually: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 27 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of learning and motivation, what should be prioritised?
A. Public comparison as the main motivator
B. Feedback unrelated to the task
C. Specific feedback describing what the learner did well and what to improve
D. Labels about a learner's fixed ability
Answer: C. Specific feedback describing what the learner did well and what to improve Explanation: Specific feedback describing what the learner did well and what to improve is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learning and motivation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Public comparison as the main motivator: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Feedback unrelated to the task: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Specific feedback describing what the learner did well and what to improve: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Labels about a learner's fixed ability: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 28 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve learning and motivation in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Ignoring learner wellbeing
B. A safe classroom climate that supports participation
C. Humiliation as a teaching strategy
D. Threats as the only management method
Answer: B. A safe classroom climate that supports participation
Explanation: A safe classroom climate that supports participation is best because it applies learning and motivation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learning and motivation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignoring learner wellbeing: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A safe classroom climate that supports participation: it applies learning and motivation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Humiliation as a teaching strategy: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Threats as the only management method: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 29 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound learning and motivation judgement?

A. Threats as the only management method
B. Ignoring learner wellbeing
C. A safe classroom climate that supports participation
D. Humiliation as a teaching strategy

Answer: C. A safe classroom climate that supports participation

Explanation: A safe classroom climate that supports participation is best because it applies learning and motivation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learning and motivation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Threats as the only management method: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring learner wellbeing: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A safe classroom climate that supports participation: it applies learning and motivation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Humiliation as a teaching strategy: it does not apply the learning and motivation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 30 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of numerical reasoning, what should be prioritised?

A. The maximum value
B. The median is the middle ordered value
C. The sum divided by the count
D. The most frequent value only

Answer: B. The median is the middle ordered value

Explanation: The median is the middle ordered value is best because the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in numerical reasoning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — The maximum value: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Correct — The median is the middle ordered value: the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean.
Incorrect — The sum divided by the count: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Incorrect — The most frequent value only: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 31 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve numerical reasoning in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. The middle value after sorting
B. The mean is the sum of values divided by their count
C. The difference between maximum and minimum

D. The most frequent value
Answer: B. The mean is the sum of values divided by their count
Explanation: The mean is the sum of values divided by their count is best because it applies numerical reasoning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in numerical reasoning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — The middle value after sorting: it does not apply the numerical reasoning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — The mean is the sum of values divided by their count: it applies numerical reasoning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — The difference between maximum and minimum: it does not apply the numerical reasoning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — The most frequent value: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 32 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of teaching and learning, what should be prioritised?
A. Learner-centred teaching
B. Punishment-led instruction
C. Memorisation without understanding
D. Teacher monologue for every lesson
Answer: A. Learner-centred teaching
Explanation: Learner-centred teaching is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Learner-centred teaching: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Punishment-led instruction: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Memorisation without understanding: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Teacher monologue for every lesson: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 33 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve teaching and learning in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Giving the complete solution every time
B. Removing all learner choice
C. Avoiding challenging tasks
D. Scaffolding that is gradually withdrawn
Answer: D. Scaffolding that is gradually withdrawn
Explanation: Scaffolding that is gradually withdrawn is best because it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Giving the complete solution every time: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Removing all learner choice: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoiding challenging tasks: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Scaffolding that is gradually withdrawn: it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 34 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which teaching approach requires learners to engage with tasks, discussion, or practice rather than only listening?

A. Lecture-only delivery with no learner tasks
B. Copying notes without discussion or practice
C. Active learning
D. Assessing only memorisation of labels
Answer: C. Active learning
Explanation: Active learning is best because active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Lecture-only delivery with no learner tasks: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Copying notes without discussion or practice: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Active learning: active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk.
Incorrect — Assessing only memorisation of labels: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 35 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound teaching and learning judgement?
A. Assuming silence means mastery
B. Using attendance as proof of learning
C. Checking understanding during the lesson
D. Waiting until the end of term
Answer: C. Checking understanding during the lesson
Explanation: Checking understanding during the lesson is best because it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assuming silence means mastery: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using attendance as proof of learning: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking understanding during the lesson: it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Waiting until the end of term: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 36 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which approach adapts tasks, support, or pathways so learners with different needs can work toward shared goals?
A. Differentiated instruction
B. Identical tasks with no support variation
C. Lowering goals instead of adapting support
D. Excluding some learners from core content
Answer: A. Differentiated instruction
Explanation: Differentiated instruction is best because it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Differentiated instruction: it applies teaching and learning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Identical tasks with no support variation: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Lowering goals instead of adapting support: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Excluding some learners from core content: it does not apply the teaching and learning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 37 · TRUE / FALSE
In any school situation, performance tasks are hands-on activities that require students to demonstrate their ability to perform certain actions.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 38 · TRUE / FALSE
The final outcome of successful strategic competitiveness is above average returns.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 39 · TRUE / FALSE
Teachers who are respected and liked are associated with greater student satisfaction and higher achievement.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 40 · TRUE / FALSE
Monitoring involves the development of a forecast of what might happen at a future point in time.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 41 · TRUE / FALSE
A teacher cannot exhibit referent power from the first day in class by giving students a sense of belonging and acceptance.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 42 · TRUE / FALSE
Since the health of a nations economy affects the performance of individual firms and industries, organisations study the economic environment to identify changes, trends and their strategic implications.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 43 · TRUE / FALSE
Licensure and exit test are the best predictors of classroom performance of teachers.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 44 · TRUE / FALSE
External environment analysis should be conducted annually.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 45 · TRUE / FALSE
If a person teaches with a high degree of clarity, he/she will spend less time going over material.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 46 · TRUE / FALSE

Students performance is higher in classes where the teacher devotes large amounts of time to the materials needed rather than teaching content.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 47 · TRUE / FALSE

In Ghana, the National Teachers Standards set out the minimum levels of practice that all trained teachers must reach by the end of their pre- service teachers education course in order to play such a critical role.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 48 · TRUE / FALSE

The purpose of evaluating is to make a judgement about the quality of education provided.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 49 · TRUE / FALSE

Measurement is the qualitative assessment of performance of learners.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 50 · TRUE / FALSE

What a teacher does not say is as important as what a teacher does say.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 51 · TRUE / FALSE
Competitive activities have little value in establishing or maintaining an effective classroom climate and should thus be avoided.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 52 · TRUE / FALSE
Students feel important and are encouraged to participate in class when a teacher uses their ideas in moving a class lecture or activity forward.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 53 · TRUE / FALSE
The advancement in literacy, numeracy as well as Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) fields is central to the Ministry of Education’s vision of producing learners with strong experiential learning capabilities and backgrounds in career focused programmes.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 54 · TRUE / FALSE
Strategies such as writing detailed test questions or prompts, including clear directions, and establishing and communicating clear grading criteria increase test reliability.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 55 · TRUE / FALSE

The standard-based curriculum was rolled for the primary schools in Ghana in academic year 2017/2018.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 56 · TRUE / FALSE

Written assessments are activities in which the students selects or composes a response to a prompt.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 57 · TRUE / FALSE

The teacher cannot alter the classroom climate but should work for student success regardless of the climate.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 58 · TRUE / FALSE

The overall goal of the Ministry of Education is to provide relevant and quality education for disadvantaged Ghanaians.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 59 · TRUE / FALSE

The National Teaching Council is not the mandated body that oversees the posting of newly trained teachers in Ghana.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 60 · TRUE / FALSE
The skill that must be demonstrated in performance task cannot vary considerably.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 61 · TRUE / FALSE
In a school, teachers have many different types of assessment available to them.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 62 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound educational assessment judgement?
A. Reliability
B. Validity
C. Speed of marking
D. Fairness alone
Answer: A. Reliability
Explanation: Reliability is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Reliability: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Validity: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Speed of marking: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Fairness alone: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 63 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound human resource management judgement?

A. Allocating duties solely by friendship
B. Assigning all difficult tasks to one person
C. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs
D. Ignoring staff capacity
Answer: C. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs
Explanation: Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs is best because it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in human resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Allocating duties solely by friendship: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assigning all difficult tasks to one person: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs: it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring staff capacity: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 64 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound ethical leadership judgement?

A. Making promises outside delegated authority
B. Ignoring a legal requirement
C. Acting beyond competence to appear decisive
D. Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority
Answer: D. Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority
Explanation: Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Making promises outside delegated authority: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring a legal requirement: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Acting beyond competence to appear decisive: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 65 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve public administration and ethics in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Publishing sensitive details for convenience
B. Confidential handling of personal information
C. Keeping no access controls
D. Sharing records with unauthorised people
Answer: B. Confidential handling of personal information
Explanation: Confidential handling of personal information is best because it applies public administration and ethics standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in public administration and ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Publishing sensitive details for convenience: it does not apply the public administration and ethics principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Confidential handling of personal information: it applies public administration and ethics standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Keeping no access controls: it does not apply the public administration and ethics principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Sharing records with unauthorised people: it does not apply the public administration and ethics principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 66 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which option provides the strongest basis for an improvement is planned?

A. Sharing the complaint publicly
B. Retaliation against the complainant
C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint
D. Ignoring the complaint without assessment

Answer: C. A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint

Explanation: A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Sharing the complaint publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Retaliation against the complainant: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A factual, respectful and timely response to a complaint: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring the complaint without assessment: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 67 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound public administration and ethics judgement?

A. Ignoring applicable rules
B. Following lawful procedures and documented authority
C. Acting on personal preference alone
D. Using an informal order to bypass controls

Answer: B. Following lawful procedures and documented authority

Explanation: Following lawful procedures and documented authority is best because it applies public administration and ethics standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in public administration and ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring applicable rules: it does not apply the public administration and ethics principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Following lawful procedures and documented authority: it applies public administration and ethics standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Acting on personal preference alone: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Incorrect — Using an informal order to bypass controls: it does not apply the public administration and ethics principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 68 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve human resource management in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs
B. Ignoring staff capacity
C. Assigning all difficult tasks to one person
D. Allocating duties solely by friendship

Answer: A. Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs

Explanation: Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs is best because it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in human resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Workload allocation based on role, capacity and service needs: it applies human resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring staff capacity: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assigning all difficult tasks to one person: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Allocating duties solely by friendship: it does not apply the human resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 69 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound learner wellbeing judgement?

A. Sharing identifying details casually
B. Ignoring warning signs
C. Investigating alone beyond one's role
D. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Answer: D. Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns
Explanation: Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Sharing identifying details casually: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Ignoring warning signs: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Incorrect — Investigating alone beyond one's role: this approach mishandles safeguarding duties or bypasses proper referral channels.
Correct — Following safeguarding procedures and acting promptly on credible concerns: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 70 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound numerical reasoning judgement?

A. The maximum value
B. The median is the middle ordered value
C. The most frequent value only
D. The sum divided by the count
Answer: B. The median is the middle ordered value
Explanation: The median is the middle ordered value is best because the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in numerical reasoning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — The maximum value: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Correct — The median is the middle ordered value: the median is the middle value in an ordered list and is robust when extremes distort the mean.
Incorrect — The most frequent value only: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Incorrect — The sum divided by the count: this statistic answers a different question than the one posed about central tendency.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 71 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve leadership and supervision in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Imposing change without explanation
B. Launching change without resources

C. Change management with communication, participation and review
D. Assuming resistance proves misconduct
Answer: C. Change management with communication, participation and review
Explanation: Change management with communication, participation and review is best because it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Imposing change without explanation: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Launching change without resources: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Change management with communication, participation and review: it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming resistance proves misconduct: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 72 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve public service leadership in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Changing records to justify a decision
B. Decisions based only on emotion
C. Proportionate decisions supported by evidence and documented reasons
D. Disproportionate action without explanation
Answer: C. Proportionate decisions supported by evidence and documented reasons
Explanation: Proportionate decisions supported by evidence and documented reasons is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in public service leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Changing records to justify a decision: it does not apply the public service leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Decisions based only on emotion: it does not apply the public service leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Proportionate decisions supported by evidence and documented reasons: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Disproportionate action without explanation: it does not apply the public service leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 73 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound leadership and supervision judgement?
A. Imposing change without explanation
B. Launching change without resources
C. Change management with communication, participation and review
D. Assuming resistance proves misconduct
Answer: C. Change management with communication, participation and review
Explanation: Change management with communication, participation and review is best because it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and supervision, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Imposing change without explanation: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Launching change without resources: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Change management with communication, participation and review: it applies leadership and supervision standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assuming resistance proves misconduct: it does not apply the leadership and supervision principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 74 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound data and research judgement?

A. Selecting only evidence that supports a preference
B. Treating one anecdote as conclusive
C. Ignoring missing data
D. Using representative and appropriate data
Answer: D. Using representative and appropriate data
Explanation: Using representative and appropriate data is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Selecting only evidence that supports a preference: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Treating one anecdote as conclusive: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring missing data: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Using representative and appropriate data: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 75 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve resource management in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds
B. Ignoring expenditure limits
C. Allocating funds without objectives
D. Spending first and planning later
Answer: A. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds
Explanation: Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds is best because it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds: it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring expenditure limits: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Allocating funds without objectives: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Spending first and planning later: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 76 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound professional learning judgement?

A. Assuming every method transfers unchanged
B. Avoiding feedback from colleagues
C. Keeping all successful methods private
D. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Answer: D. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Explanation: Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Assuming every method transfers unchanged: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Avoiding feedback from colleagues: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Keeping all successful methods private: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Correct — Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 77 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve programme management in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Ignoring barriers to implementation
B. Changing the goal without documenting why
C. Reviewing implementation fidelity and adapting when evidence warrants it
D. Assuming a plan was delivered because it was approved

Answer: C. Reviewing implementation fidelity and adapting when evidence warrants it

Explanation: Reviewing implementation fidelity and adapting when evidence warrants it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in programme management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring barriers to implementation: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Changing the goal without documenting why: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reviewing implementation fidelity and adapting when evidence warrants it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Assuming a plan was delivered because it was approved: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 78 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound finance and accountability judgement?

A. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels
B. Destroying evidence
C. Conducting an unauthorised public accusation
D. Ignoring the concern

Answer: A. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels

Explanation: Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels is best because it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in finance and accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels: it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Destroying evidence: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conducting an unauthorised public accusation: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring the concern: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 79 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve professional practice in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Excluding a learner because support is needed
B. Assuming all disabilities require the same adjustment
C. Reasonable accommodation that supports access and participation

D. Ignoring barriers in the learning environment
Answer: C. Reasonable accommodation that supports access and participation
Explanation: Reasonable accommodation that supports access and participation is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Excluding a learner because support is needed: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming all disabilities require the same adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reasonable accommodation that supports access and participation: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring barriers in the learning environment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 80 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound finance and accountability judgement?
A. No supporting documents
B. Reconciling only when problems arise
C. One person controlling every step without review
D. Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable
Answer: D. Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable
Explanation: Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable is best because it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in finance and accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — No supporting documents: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Reconciling only when problems arise: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — One person controlling every step without review: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable: it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 81 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
To improve work planning in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. No backup responsibilities
B. Contingency planning for foreseeable disruption
C. Assuming every event will follow the plan
D. Keeping plans inaccessible to the team
Answer: B. Contingency planning for foreseeable disruption
Explanation: Contingency planning for foreseeable disruption is best because it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in work planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — No backup responsibilities: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Contingency planning for foreseeable disruption: it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming every event will follow the plan: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Keeping plans inaccessible to the team: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 82 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve school-community relations in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Retaliating against a complainant
B. Deleting complaints after a verbal reply
C. Sharing private complaint details widely
D. A fair complaint process with documentation and follow-up

Answer: D. A fair complaint process with documentation and follow-up

Explanation: A fair complaint process with documentation and follow-up is best because it applies school-community relations standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school-community relations, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Retaliating against a complainant: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Deleting complaints after a verbal reply: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Sharing private complaint details widely: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — A fair complaint process with documentation and follow-up: it applies school-community relations standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 83 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve leadership and governance in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Spending without monitoring outcomes
B. Service delivery that is equitable, efficient and accountable
C. Ignoring underserved groups
D. Prioritising appearance over results

Answer: B. Service delivery that is equitable, efficient and accountable

Explanation: Service delivery that is equitable, efficient and accountable is best because it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Spending without monitoring outcomes: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Service delivery that is equitable, efficient and accountable: it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Ignoring underserved groups: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Prioritising appearance over results: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 84 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound professional practice judgement?

A. Favouritism in professional decisions
B. Sharing inappropriate personal content with learners
C. Using authority for personal advantage
D. Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct

Answer: D. Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct

Explanation: Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Favouritism in professional decisions: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Sharing inappropriate personal content with learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using authority for personal advantage: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Maintaining professional boundaries and respectful conduct: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 85 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve data and research in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Presenting estimates as certainties
B. Claiming more than the data support
C. Hiding contradictory findings
D. Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly

Answer: D. Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly

Explanation: Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Presenting estimates as certainties: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Claiming more than the data support: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Hiding contradictory findings: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 86 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound teaching and learning judgement?

A. Passive copying throughout the lesson
B. Teacher talk without learner response
C. Assessment without instruction
D. Active learning

Answer: D. Active learning

Explanation: Active learning is best because active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Passive copying throughout the lesson: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Incorrect — Teacher talk without learner response: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Incorrect — Assessment without instruction: this approach reduces meaningful learning engagement and feedback for learners.
Correct — Active learning: active learning keeps learners thinking, practising, and receiving feedback rather than only receiving talk.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 87 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound school-community relations judgement?

A. Ignoring a disclosure
B. Promising secrecy regardless of safety
C. Investigating serious abuse alone and informally
D. Learner safeguarding and prompt referral through proper channels

Answer: D. Learner safeguarding and prompt referral through proper channels

Explanation: Learner safeguarding and prompt referral through proper channels is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school-community relations, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring a disclosure: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Promising secrecy regardless of safety: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Investigating serious abuse alone and informally: it does not apply the school-community relations principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learner safeguarding and prompt referral through proper channels: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 88 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound resource stewardship judgement?

A. Using public resources for authorised educational purposes
B. Personal use without approval
C. Ignoring waste and maintenance
D. No records of allocation

Answer: A. Using public resources for authorised educational purposes
Explanation: Using public resources for authorised educational purposes is best because it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using public resources for authorised educational purposes: it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Personal use without approval: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring waste and maintenance: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No records of allocation: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 89 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound educational law and policy judgement?

A. Relying on a paraphrase without verification
B. Applying a rule outside its scope
C. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
D. Assuming a draft is enacted law

Answer: C. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
Explanation: Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument is best because it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational law and policy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Relying on a paraphrase without verification: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Applying a rule outside its scope: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument: it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming a draft is enacted law: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 90 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound equity and access judgement?

A. Reporting only an overall average
B. Hiding group-level disparities
C. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme
D. Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes

Answer: C. Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme

Explanation: Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme is best because it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in equity and access, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Reporting only an overall average: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Hiding group-level disparities: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Monitoring whether different groups benefit fairly from a programme: it applies equity and access standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assuming identical participation means equal outcomes: it does not apply the equity and access principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 91 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound decision-making judgement?

A. Using criteria that change for each option
B. Ignoring costs and risks
C. Choosing the first option automatically
D. Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences

Answer: D. Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences

Explanation: Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences is best because it applies decision-making standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in decision-making, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Using criteria that change for each option: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Ignoring costs and risks: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Choosing the first option automatically: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences: it applies decision-making standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 92 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve finance and accountability in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Conducting an unauthorised public accusation
B. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels
C. Ignoring the concern
D. Destroying evidence

Answer: B. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels

Explanation: Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels is best because it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in finance and accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Conducting an unauthorised public accusation: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels: it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring the concern: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Destroying evidence: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 93 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound public service leadership judgement?

A. Personal gain as the primary purpose
B. Avoiding accountability
C. Serving the public interest within lawful authority
D. Favouritism as a management principle

Answer: C. Serving the public interest within lawful authority

Explanation: Serving the public interest within lawful authority is best because it applies public service leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in public service leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Personal gain as the primary purpose: it does not apply the public service leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoiding accountability: it does not apply the public service leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Serving the public interest within lawful authority: it applies public service leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Favouritism as a management principle: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 94 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound leadership and governance judgement?

A. Decisions grounded in current, authoritative policy and law
B. Ignoring the date and scope of a policy
C. Treating social media claims as legislation
D. Relying solely on an old unofficial note

Answer: A. Decisions grounded in current, authoritative policy and law

Explanation: Decisions grounded in current, authoritative policy and law is best because it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and governance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Decisions grounded in current, authoritative policy and law: it applies leadership and governance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring the date and scope of a policy: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Treating social media claims as legislation: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Relying solely on an old unofficial note: it does not apply the leadership and governance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 95 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound educational technology judgement?

A. Publishing without review
B. Ignoring age and context
C. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
D. Assuming generated content is always correct
Answer: C. Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability
Explanation: Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability is best because it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational technology, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Publishing without review: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring age and context: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking digital content for accuracy, bias and suitability: it applies educational technology standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assuming generated content is always correct: it does not apply the educational technology principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 96 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
To improve statistics and reporting in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Comparing unlike groups without context
B. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful
C. Reporting a percentage without explaining its base
D. Changing the denominator to improve appearance
Answer: B. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful
Explanation: Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful is best because it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in statistics and reporting, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Comparing unlike groups without context: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful: it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reporting a percentage without explaining its base: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Changing the denominator to improve appearance: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 97 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
To improve quality assurance in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. One metric used to represent all quality
B. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
C. Ignoring unintended consequences
D. Counting inputs only
Answer: B. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
Explanation: A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — One metric used to represent all quality: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring unintended consequences: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Counting inputs only: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 98 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that teachers disagree about marking standards. Which response best reflects sound resource management judgement?

A. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds
B. Ignoring expenditure limits
C. Spending first and planning later
D. Allocating funds without objectives

Answer: A. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds

Explanation: Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds is best because it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds: it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring expenditure limits: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Spending first and planning later: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Allocating funds without objectives: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 99 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve leadership and communication in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log
B. Recording opinions but no decisions
C. Meeting without purpose or follow-up
D. Keeping actions ownerless

Answer: A. Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log

Explanation: Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using a structured meeting agenda, decisions and action log: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Recording opinions but no decisions: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Meeting without purpose or follow-up: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Keeping actions ownerless: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 100 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve stakeholder engagement in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Collecting views without responding
B. Promising outcomes beyond authority
C. Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps
D. Ignoring recurring concerns

Answer: C. Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps

Explanation: Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps is best because it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collecting views without responding: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Promising outcomes beyond authority: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps: it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring recurring concerns: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 101 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve examination integrity in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
B. Failing to document irregularities
C. Allowing unauthorised access
D. Changing rules secretly for selected candidates
Answer: A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
Explanation: Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling is best because it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in examination integrity, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling: it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Failing to document irregularities: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Allowing unauthorised access: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Changing rules secretly for selected candidates: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 102 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve professional learning in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
B. Avoiding feedback from colleagues
C. Assuming every method transfers unchanged
D. Keeping all successful methods private
Answer: A. Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning
Explanation: Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sharing effective practice through structured peer learning: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Avoiding feedback from colleagues: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Assuming every method transfers unchanged: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Keeping all successful methods private: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 103 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound ethics and fairness judgement?
A. Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed
B. Keeping no evidence of approval
C. Relying on undocumented verbal decisions for everything

D. Deleting records to avoid scrutiny
Answer: A. Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed
Explanation: Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed is best because it applies ethics and fairness standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethics and fairness, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed: it applies ethics and fairness standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Keeping no evidence of approval: it does not apply the ethics and fairness principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Relying on undocumented verbal decisions for everything: it does not apply the ethics and fairness principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Deleting records to avoid scrutiny: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 104 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound professional accountability judgement?
A. Omitting inconvenient results
B. Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing
C. Changing definitions to claim success
D. Inflating performance figures
Answer: B. Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing
Explanation: Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing is best because it applies professional accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Omitting inconvenient results: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing: it applies professional accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Changing definitions to claim success: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Inflating performance figures: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 105 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
To improve decision-making in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Choosing the first option automatically
B. Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences
C. Using criteria that change for each option
D. Ignoring costs and risks
Answer: B. Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences
Explanation: Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences is best because it applies decision-making standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in decision-making, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Choosing the first option automatically: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Comparing options against transparent criteria and likely consequences: it applies decision-making standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Using criteria that change for each option: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Ignoring costs and risks: it does not apply the decision-making principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 106 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve risk and compliance in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. A risk register with no owners
B. Assuming policies enforce themselves
C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates
D. Informal memory as the only control

Answer: C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates

Explanation: Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates is best because it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — A risk register with no owners: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming policies enforce themselves: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates: it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Informal memory as the only control: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 107 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound risk and compliance judgement?

A. Assuming policies enforce themselves
B. Informal memory as the only control
C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates
D. A risk register with no owners

Answer: C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates

Explanation: Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates is best because it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Assuming policies enforce themselves: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Informal memory as the only control: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates: it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A risk register with no owners: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 108 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve organisational culture in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability
B. Confusing respect with absence of standards
C. Fear as the only basis for compliance
D. No opportunity to raise concerns

Answer: A. Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability

Explanation: Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability is best because it applies organisational culture standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in organisational culture, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability: it applies organisational culture standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Confusing respect with absence of standards: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Fear as the only basis for compliance: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No opportunity to raise concerns: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 109 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve ethical leadership in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Ignoring a legal requirement
B. Making promises outside delegated authority
C. Acting beyond competence to appear decisive
D. Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority

Answer: D. Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority

Explanation: Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority is best because it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethical leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring a legal requirement: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Making promises outside delegated authority: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Acting beyond competence to appear decisive: it does not apply the ethical leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Seeking advice or referral when an issue exceeds one's authority: it applies ethical leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 110 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound organisational culture judgement?

A. No opportunity to raise concerns
B. Fear as the only basis for compliance
C. Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability
D. Confusing respect with absence of standards

Answer: C. Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability

Explanation: Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability is best because it applies organisational culture standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in organisational culture, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — No opportunity to raise concerns: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Fear as the only basis for compliance: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Psychological safety with clear standards and accountability: it applies organisational culture standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Confusing respect with absence of standards: it does not apply the organisational culture principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 111 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve educational law and policy in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Applying a rule outside its scope
B. Assuming a draft is enacted law

C. Relying on a paraphrase without verification
D. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
Answer: D. Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument
Explanation: Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument is best because it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational law and policy, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Applying a rule outside its scope: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming a draft is enacted law: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Relying on a paraphrase without verification: it does not apply the educational law and policy principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Checking the current official text and scope of a legal instrument: it applies educational law and policy standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 112 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound communication judgement?

A. Unverified claims without sources
B. A long report without a decision point
C. A report that hides the main finding
D. A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations
Answer: D. A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations
Explanation: A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Unverified claims without sources: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Incorrect — A long report without a decision point: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A report that hides the main finding: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A concise report supported by evidence and recommendations: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 113 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve communication in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?

A. Using jargon with every audience
B. Responding before understanding
C. Interrupting to assume meaning
D. Active listening and clarification
Answer: D. Active listening and clarification
Explanation: Active listening and clarification is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Using jargon with every audience: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Responding before understanding: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Interrupting to assume meaning: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Active listening and clarification: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 114 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound data and research judgement?

A. Reporting percentages without denominators
B. Deleting inconvenient observations without reason
C. Assuming every record is correct
D. Checking data quality before drawing conclusions

Answer: D. Checking data quality before drawing conclusions

Explanation: Checking data quality before drawing conclusions is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Reporting percentages without denominators: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Deleting inconvenient observations without reason: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Assuming every record is correct: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Checking data quality before drawing conclusions: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 115 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound quality assurance judgement?

A. Ignoring unintended consequences
B. Counting inputs only
C. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
D. One metric used to represent all quality

Answer: C. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes

Explanation: A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignoring unintended consequences: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Counting inputs only: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — One metric used to represent all quality: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 116 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound planning and evaluation judgement?

A. Ignoring intended beneficiaries
B. Measuring only money spent
C. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities
D. Counting workshops as proof of impact

Answer: C. Evaluating outcomes as well as activities

Explanation: Evaluating outcomes as well as activities is best because it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in planning and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignoring intended beneficiaries: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Measuring only money spent: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Evaluating outcomes as well as activities: it applies planning and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Counting workshops as proof of impact: it does not apply the planning and evaluation principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 117 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound communication judgement?

A. Adapting communication to audience and purpose
B. Omitting essential context
C. Using one format for every situation
D. Avoiding accessible language

Answer: A. Adapting communication to audience and purpose

Explanation: Adapting communication to audience and purpose is best because it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapting communication to audience and purpose: it applies communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Omitting essential context: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using one format for every situation: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoiding accessible language: it does not apply the communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 118 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound work planning judgement?

A. Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines
B. Ignoring statutory deadlines
C. Working without a schedule or review
D. Treating every task as equally urgent

Answer: A. Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines

Explanation: Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines is best because it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in work planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritising urgent and important work while respecting deadlines: it applies work planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring statutory deadlines: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Working without a schedule or review: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Treating every task as equally urgent: it does not apply the work planning principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 119 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound examination integrity judgement?

A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
B. Allowing unauthorised access

C. Changing rules secretly for selected candidates
D. Failing to document irregularities
Answer: A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
Explanation: Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling is best because it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in examination integrity, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling: it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Allowing unauthorised access: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Changing rules secretly for selected candidates: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Incorrect — Failing to document irregularities: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 120 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve evidence-based leadership in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Testing whether an intervention works before scaling it broadly
B. Scaling immediately without evaluation
C. Ignoring unintended effects
D. Assuming good intentions guarantee impact
Answer: A. Testing whether an intervention works before scaling it broadly
Explanation: Testing whether an intervention works before scaling it broadly is best because it applies evidence-based leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in evidence-based leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Testing whether an intervention works before scaling it broadly: it applies evidence-based leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Scaling immediately without evaluation: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring unintended effects: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Assuming good intentions guarantee impact: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 121 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve resource stewardship in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Comparing cost, quality, need and sustainability in resource decisions
B. Ignoring lifecycle costs
C. Choosing by personal preference
D. Choosing the cheapest option in every case
Answer: A. Comparing cost, quality, need and sustainability in resource decisions
Explanation: Comparing cost, quality, need and sustainability in resource decisions is best because it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Comparing cost, quality, need and sustainability in resource decisions: it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Ignoring lifecycle costs: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Choosing by personal preference: this severs the link between curriculum intent, evidence of learning, and classroom action.
Incorrect — Choosing the cheapest option in every case: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 122 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound statistics and reporting judgement?

A. Reporting a percentage without explaining its base
B. Changing the denominator to improve appearance
C. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful
D. Comparing unlike groups without context

Answer: C. Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful

Explanation: Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful is best because it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in statistics and reporting, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Reporting a percentage without explaining its base: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Changing the denominator to improve appearance: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Reporting the denominator alongside a percentage where useful: it applies statistics and reporting standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Comparing unlike groups without context: it does not apply the statistics and reporting principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 123 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school preparing a quality assurance visit, colleagues report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. Which response best reflects sound evidence-based leadership judgement?

A. Using data without checking its meaning
B. Replacing evidence with rank or seniority
C. Ignoring contradictory evidence
D. Combining data with professional judgement and local context

Answer: D. Combining data with professional judgement and local context

Explanation: Combining data with professional judgement and local context is best because it applies evidence-based leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in evidence-based leadership, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Using data without checking its meaning: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Replacing evidence with rank or seniority: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Ignoring contradictory evidence: it does not apply the evidence-based leadership principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Combining data with professional judgement and local context: it applies evidence-based leadership standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 124 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

When judging whether assessment results are consistent across markers or occasions, which quality is most relevant?

A. Speed of marking
B. Validity without consistency checks
C. Reliability
D. Fairness alone without stable procedures

Answer: C. Reliability

Explanation: Reliability is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Speed of marking: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Incorrect — Validity without consistency checks: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Correct — Reliability: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Fairness alone without stable procedures: this option alone does not capture the full assessment principle the scenario requires.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 125 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve ethics and fairness in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Deleting records to avoid scrutiny
B. Keeping no evidence of approval
C. Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed
D. Relying on undocumented verbal decisions for everything
Answer: C. Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed
Explanation: Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed is best because it applies ethics and fairness standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in ethics and fairness, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Deleting records to avoid scrutiny: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Keeping no evidence of approval: it does not apply the ethics and fairness principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Recording decisions and reasons so they can be reviewed: it applies ethics and fairness standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Relying on undocumented verbal decisions for everything: it does not apply the ethics and fairness principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 126 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as an Assistant Director II in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound leadership and communication judgement?
A. Ignoring questions from affected staff
B. Announcing a change without purpose or support
C. Using rumours to gain compliance
D. Communicating the rationale, expected effects and support for a change
Answer: D. Communicating the rationale, expected effects and support for a change
Explanation: Communicating the rationale, expected effects and support for a change is best because it applies leadership and communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in leadership and communication, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignoring questions from affected staff: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Announcing a change without purpose or support: it does not apply the leadership and communication principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Using rumours to gain compliance: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Correct — Communicating the rationale, expected effects and support for a change: it applies leadership and communication standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 127 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

To improve professional accountability in an education setting, which principle should guide the decision?
A. Inflating performance figures
B. Omitting inconvenient results
C. Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing

D. Changing definitions to claim success
Answer: C. Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing
Explanation: Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing is best because it applies professional accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Inflating performance figures: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Omitting inconvenient results: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting accurate information even when results are disappointing: it applies professional accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Changing definitions to claim success: it does not apply the professional accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 128 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound stakeholder engagement judgement?
A. Collecting views without responding
B. Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps
C. Promising outcomes beyond authority
D. Ignoring recurring concerns
Answer: B. Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps
Explanation: Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps is best because it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in stakeholder engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collecting views without responding: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Closing the feedback loop by communicating decisions and next steps: it applies stakeholder engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Promising outcomes beyond authority: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring recurring concerns: it does not apply the stakeholder engagement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 129 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as an Assistant Director II in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound school improvement judgement?
A. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility
B. Ignoring implementation capacity
C. Launching every initiative at once
D. Choosing actions only because they are fashionable
Answer: A. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility
Explanation: Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Ignoring implementation capacity: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Launching every initiative at once: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Choosing actions only because they are fashionable: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 130 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What supports continuity when a school project changes leadership?

A. Discard decisions without review
B. Avoid documentation
C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes
D. Keep all information with one person

Answer: C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes

Explanation: Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Discard decisions without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoid documentation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Keep all information with one person: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 131 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Monitoring shows an intervention is not working. What next?

A. Blame one person without inquiry
B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
C. Hide results
D. Continue indefinitely

Answer: B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it

Explanation: Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Blame one person without inquiry: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide results: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Continue indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 132 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How can a teacher check understanding during a lesson?

A. Use brief questions or tasks and respond to evidence
B. Ask only if everyone understands
C. Wait until term end
D. Assume copying means comprehension

Answer: A. Use brief questions or tasks and respond to evidence

Explanation: Use brief questions or tasks and respond to evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use brief questions or tasks and respond to evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Ask only if everyone understands: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Wait until term end: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Assume copying means comprehension: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 133 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which feedback is most constructive?

A. A personal insult
B. A score with no context
C. Public shaming
D. Specific feedback with a next step

Answer: D. Specific feedback with a next step

Explanation: Specific feedback with a next step is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — A personal insult: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A score with no context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Public shaming: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Specific feedback with a next step: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 134 · TRUE / FALSE

Formative assessment can help a teacher adjust instruction during learning. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 135 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 3 Why engage stakeholders in school improvement?

A. Give one person all decision power
B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility
C. Remove professional judgement
D. Guarantee unanimous agreement

Answer: B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility

Explanation: Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Give one person all decision power: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Remove professional judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee unanimous agreement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 136 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How can teachers support learners with different language backgrounds?

A. Use clear language, visuals and checks for understanding
B. Assume silence means understanding
C. Prevent questions
D. Assess unrelated language ability

Answer: A. Use clear language, visuals and checks for understanding

Explanation: Use clear language, visuals and checks for understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use clear language, visuals and checks for understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assume silence means understanding: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Prevent questions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Assess unrelated language ability: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 137 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is the purpose of a staff meeting agenda?

A. Prevent preparation
B. Replace follow-up
C. List unrelated topics without priorities
D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation

Answer: D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation

Explanation: Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Prevent preparation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Replace follow-up: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — List unrelated topics without priorities: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 138 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which approach best supports a new teacher?

A. Avoid feedback until year end
B. Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure
C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
D. Assign duties without explanation

Answer: C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice

Explanation: Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Avoid feedback until year end: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.

Incorrect — Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assign duties without explanation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 139 · TRUE / FALSE

Every learner should receive exactly the same support regardless of need. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 140 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which classroom practice encourages participation?

A. Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond
B. Let interruptions dominate
C. Invite only top scorers GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 4
D. Punish every wrong answer
Answer: A. Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond
Explanation: Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Let interruptions dominate: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Invite only top scorers GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 4: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Punish every wrong answer: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 141 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is the best use of classroom observation?

A. Judge personal style alone
B. Embarrass the teacher
C. Conclude without observing
D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Answer: D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria
Explanation: Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Judge personal style alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Embarrass the teacher: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conclude without observing: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 142 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which is a measurable improvement target?

A. Make the school perfect
B. Work harder without evidence
C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
D. Improve everything someday
Answer: C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
Explanation: Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Make the school perfect: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Work harder without evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Improve everything someday: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 143 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Why keep school records accurate and timely?
A. Use only during inspections
B. Support continuity, accountability and decisions
C. Make communication unnecessary
D. Reflect assumptions
Answer: B. Support continuity, accountability and decisions
Explanation: Support continuity, accountability and decisions is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Use only during inspections: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Support continuity, accountability and decisions: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Make communication unnecessary: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Reflect assumptions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 144 · TRUE / FALSE

Assessment should align with the learning objective it measures. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 145 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

A learner reports a safeguarding concern. What is the appropriate response?
A. Promise absolute secrecy
B. Discuss it widely
C. Ignore it without assessment
D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person
Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Promise absolute secrecy: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discuss it widely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore it without assessment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 146 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 5 Which is an example of professional reflection?

A. Blame learners for every difficulty
B. Ignore feedback
C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
D. Repeat lessons without review

Answer: C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
Explanation: Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame learners for every difficulty: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Repeat lessons without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 147 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should a school leader address staff conflict?

A. Ignore it indefinitely
B. Listen fairly, follow procedures and document relevant facts
C. Take sides before hearing accounts
D. Share allegations publicly

Answer: B. Listen fairly, follow procedures and document relevant facts
Explanation: Listen fairly, follow procedures and document relevant facts is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Ignore it indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Listen fairly, follow procedures and document relevant facts: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Take sides before hearing accounts: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Share allegations publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 148 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should digital learning tools be used responsibly?

A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
B. Assume every answer is correct

C. Upload private data anywhere
D. Use technology even when it obstructs learning
Answer: A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
Explanation: Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assume every answer is correct: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Upload private data anywhere: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Use technology even when it obstructs learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 149 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should promise absolute secrecy about a safeguarding concern. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 150 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is the main purpose of a lesson objective?
A. Replace assessment
B. Record teacher attendance
C. State the intended learning outcome
D. List every school rule
Answer: C. State the intended learning outcome
Explanation: State the intended learning outcome is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Replace assessment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Record teacher attendance: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — State the intended learning outcome: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — List every school rule: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 151 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is a benefit of collaborative lesson planning?
A. It makes all classes identical
B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
C. It removes the need to assess GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 6
D. It guarantees no challenges
Answer: B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
Explanation: Teachers share expertise and align goals is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — It makes all classes identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Teachers share expertise and align goals: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — It removes the need to assess GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 6: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — It guarantees no challenges: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 152 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What helps a school improvement plan succeed?

A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
B. Goals without owners
C. No evidence collection
D. Daily changes without rationale

Answer: A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points

Explanation: Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Goals without owners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No evidence collection: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Daily changes without rationale: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 153 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What should guide selection of a teaching resource?

A. Colour alone
B. Price alone
C. Whether it avoids the objective
D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Answer: D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Explanation: Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Colour alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Price alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Whether it avoids the objective: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 154 · TRUE / FALSE

Clear success criteria help learners understand expectations. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 155 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What does a professional code of conduct do?

A. Replaces every procedure
B. Guides ethical and responsible behaviour
C. Removes all judgement
D. Permits free sharing of confidential data

Answer: B. Guides ethical and responsible behaviour

Explanation: Guides ethical and responsible behaviour is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Replaces every procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Guides ethical and responsible behaviour: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Removes all judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Permits free sharing of confidential data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 156 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Many learners misunderstand a concept. What should the teacher do?

A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
B. Continue without adjustment
C. Blame the learners
D. Remove the topic

Answer: A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding

Explanation: Re-teach with another approach and check understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Re-teach with another approach and check understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Continue without adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Blame the learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Remove the topic: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 157 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 7 Why analyse assessment results?

A. Rank learners publicly
B. Avoid future planning
C. Replace all observation
D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps

Answer: D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps

Explanation: Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rank learners publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Avoid future planning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Replace all observation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 158 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which approach supports professional development?

A. Avoid feedback
B. Assume experience guarantees improvement
C. Identify a need, practise a strategy and review impact
D. Attend training but never apply it

Answer: C. Identify a need, practise a strategy and review impact

Explanation: Identify a need, practise a strategy and review impact is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Avoid feedback: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Assume experience guarantees improvement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Identify a need, practise a strategy and review impact: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Attend training but never apply it: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 159 · TRUE / FALSE

A score alone always provides enough information to improve learning. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 160 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should a parent concern be handled?

A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps
B. Dismiss the parent immediately
C. Promise an outcome before checking
D. Reveal another learner's record

Answer: A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps

Explanation: Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Dismiss the parent immediately: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Promise an outcome before checking: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Reveal another learner's record: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 161 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

How should an allegation against a staff member be handled?

A. Assume guilt immediately
B. Delete records
C. Discuss details with everyone
D. Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process

Answer: D. Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process

Explanation: Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assume guilt immediately: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Delete records: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discuss details with everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 162 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What is a scheme of learning used for?

A. Record only staff leave
B. Make every lesson identical
C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 8
D. Replace the curriculum

Answer: C. Organise curriculum content and learning over time GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 8

Explanation: Organise curriculum content and learning over time GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 8 is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Record only staff leave: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Make every lesson identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Organise curriculum content and learning over time GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 8: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Replace the curriculum: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 163 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

What does differentiated instruction aim to do?

A. Use one method regardless of need
B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
C. Remove all challenge
D. Ignore evidence

Answer: B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs

Explanation: Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Use one method regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Remove all challenge: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 164 · TRUE / FALSE

Professional reflection can use learner work and assessment evidence. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 165 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Why moderate assessment?
A. Remove all judgement
B. Make criteria unnecessary
C. Give everyone full marks
D. Improve consistency and fairness of marking
Answer: D. Improve consistency and fairness of marking
Explanation: Improve consistency and fairness of marking is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Remove all judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Make criteria unnecessary: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Give everyone full marks: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Improve consistency and fairness of marking: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 166 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which is an example of ethical leadership?
A. Hide decisions from oversight
B. Favour relatives regardless of criteria
C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
D. Use public resources for personal gain
Answer: C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
Explanation: Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide decisions from oversight: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Favour relatives regardless of criteria: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use public resources for personal gain: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 167 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which action best supports inclusive participation?

A. Lower expectations for everyone
B. Adapt support to learners' needs
C. Give identical support regardless of need
D. Exclude learners who need accommodations

Answer: B. Adapt support to learners' needs

Explanation: Adapt support to learners' needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Lower expectations for everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Adapt support to learners' needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Give identical support regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Exclude learners who need accommodations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 168 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 9 Which assessment best matches an objective to compare two ideas?

A. A task requiring comparison
B. An unrelated spelling test
C. An attendance register
D. A task asking only for a date

Answer: A. A task requiring comparison

Explanation: A task requiring comparison is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — A task requiring comparison: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — An unrelated spelling test: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — An attendance register: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — A task asking only for a date: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 169 · TRUE / FALSE

Confidential learner information may be shared with anyone who is curious. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 170 · TRUE / FALSE

A school improvement plan should include ways to monitor progress. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 171 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
Why engage stakeholders in school improvement?
A. Give one person all decision power
B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility
C. Remove professional judgement
D. Guarantee unanimous agreement
Answer: B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility
Explanation: Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Give one person all decision power: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Remove professional judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee unanimous agreement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 172 · TRUE / FALSE
GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 11 One data point always proves the cause of a school problem. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 173 · TRUE / FALSE
Collaborative planning can help teachers share expertise. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 174 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
Which is an example of professional reflection?
A. Blame learners for every difficulty
B. Ignore feedback
C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement

D. Repeat lessons without review
Answer: C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
Explanation: Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame learners for every difficulty: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Repeat lessons without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 175 · TRUE / FALSE

A rubric can describe criteria for different performance levels. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 176 · TRUE / FALSE

If an intervention is not working, leaders should never change it. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 177 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Why analyse assessment results?
A. Rank learners publicly
B. Avoid future planning
C. Replace all observation
D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps
Answer: D. Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps
Explanation: Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rank learners publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Incorrect — Avoid future planning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Replace all observation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Identify strengths, misconceptions and next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 178 · TRUE / FALSE

A respectful classroom climate can support learner participation. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 179 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should change marks because someone applies improper pressure. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 180 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

Which assessment best matches an objective to compare two ideas?

A. A task requiring comparison
B. An unrelated spelling test
C. An attendance register
D. A task asking only for a date
Answer: A. A task requiring comparison
Explanation: A task requiring comparison is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — A task requiring comparison: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — An unrelated spelling test: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — An attendance register: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A task asking only for a date: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 181 · TRUE / FALSE

Moderation can improve consistency in marking. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 182 · TRUE / FALSE

Digital resources should be checked for accuracy and suitability. TRUE FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 183 · TRUE / FALSE

A lesson objective should describe intended learning. TRUE FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 184 · TRUE / FALSE

Publicly shaming a learner is constructive feedback. TRUE FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 185 · TRUE / FALSE

Accurate records support accountability and continuity. TRUE FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 186 · TRUE / FALSE

Formative assessment can help a teacher adjust instruction during learning. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 21 FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 187 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 22 How should a parent concern be handled?

A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps
B. Dismiss the parent immediately
C. Promise an outcome before checking
D. Reveal another learner's record

Answer: A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps

Explanation: Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Dismiss the parent immediately: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Promise an outcome before checking: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Reveal another learner's record: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 188 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 24 Monitoring shows an intervention is not working. What next?

A. Blame one person without inquiry
B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
C. Hide results
D. Continue indefinitely

Answer: B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it

Explanation: Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame one person without inquiry: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide results: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Continue indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 189 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 26 Which is a measurable improvement target?

A. Make the school perfect
B. Work harder without evidence
C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date
D. Improve everything someday

Answer: C. Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date

Explanation: Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Make the school perfect: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Work harder without evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Increase the proportion meeting a defined criterion by a review date: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Improve everything someday: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 190 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 28 What should guide selection of a teaching resource?

A. Colour alone
B. Price alone
C. Whether it avoids the objective
D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Answer: D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Explanation: Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Colour alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Price alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Whether it avoids the objective: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 191 · TRUE / FALSE

One data point always proves the cause of a school problem. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 192 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 30 Collaborative planning can help teachers share expertise. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 193 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 41 A learner reports a safeguarding concern. What is the appropriate response?

A. Promise absolute secrecy
B. Discuss it widely

C. Ignore it without assessment
D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person
Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Promise absolute secrecy: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discuss it widely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore it without assessment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 194 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 43 Many learners misunderstand a concept. What should the teacher do?
A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
B. Continue without adjustment
C. Blame the learners
D. Remove the topic
Answer: A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
Explanation: Re-teach with another approach and check understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Re-teach with another approach and check understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Continue without adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Blame the learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Remove the topic: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 195 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 45 Which action best supports inclusive participation?
A. Lower expectations for everyone
B. Adapt support to learners' needs
C. Give identical support regardless of need
D. Exclude learners who need accommodations
Answer: B. Adapt support to learners' needs
Explanation: Adapt support to learners' needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Lower expectations for everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt support to learners' needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Give identical support regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Exclude learners who need accommodations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 196 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 47 Which approach best supports a new teacher?

A. Avoid feedback until year end

B. Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure

C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice

D. Assign duties without explanation

Answer: C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice

Explanation: Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Avoid feedback until year end: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.

Incorrect — Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assign duties without explanation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 197 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 49 A rubric can describe criteria for different performance levels. TRUE FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 198 · TRUE / FALSE

Assessment should align with the learning objective it measures. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 59 FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 199 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 60 What supports continuity when a school project changes leadership?

A. Discard decisions without review

B. Avoid documentation

C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes

D. Keep all information with one person

Answer: C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes

Explanation: Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Discard decisions without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoid documentation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Keep all information with one person: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 200 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 62 What is the best use of classroom observation?

A. Judge personal style alone
B. Embarrass the teacher
C. Conclude without observing
D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria

Answer: D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria

Explanation: Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Judge personal style alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Embarrass the teacher: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conclude without observing: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 201 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 64 What helps a school improvement plan succeed?

A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points
B. Goals without owners
C. No evidence collection
D. Daily changes without rationale

Answer: A. Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points

Explanation: Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Measurable priorities, responsibilities and review points: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Goals without owners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — No evidence collection: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Daily changes without rationale: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 202 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 66 What does differentiated instruction aim to do?

A. Use one method regardless of need
B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
C. Remove all challenge
D. Ignore evidence

Answer: B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs

Explanation: Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Use one method regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Remove all challenge: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 203 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 68 If an intervention is not working, leaders should never change it. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 204 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should promise absolute secrecy about a safeguarding concern. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 78 FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 205 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 79 What does a professional code of conduct do?

A. Replaces every procedure
B. Guides ethical and responsible behaviour
C. Removes all judgement
D. Permits free sharing of confidential data
Answer: B. Guides ethical and responsible behaviour
Explanation: Guides ethical and responsible behaviour is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Replaces every procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Guides ethical and responsible behaviour: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Removes all judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Permits free sharing of confidential data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 206 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 81 Which is an example of ethical leadership?

A. Hide decisions from oversight
B. Favour relatives regardless of criteria
C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process
D. Use public resources for personal gain

Answer: C. Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process

Explanation: Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Hide decisions from oversight: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Favour relatives regardless of criteria: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Declare a conflict of interest and follow the applicable process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use public resources for personal gain: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 207 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 83 What is the purpose of a staff meeting agenda?

A. Prevent preparation
B. Replace follow-up
C. List unrelated topics without priorities
D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation

Answer: D. Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation

Explanation: Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Prevent preparation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Replace follow-up: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — List unrelated topics without priorities: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Clarify topics, outcomes and time allocation: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 208 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 85 How should digital learning tools be used responsibly?

A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
B. Assume every answer is correct
C. Upload private data anywhere
D. Use technology even when it obstructs learning

Answer: A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value

Explanation: Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Assume every answer is correct: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Upload private data anywhere: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Use technology even when it obstructs learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 209 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 87 A respectful classroom climate can support learner participation. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 210 · TRUE / FALSE

Clear success criteria help learners understand expectations. TRUE GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 97 FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 211 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 98 Which classroom practice encourages participation?

A. Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond
B. Let interruptions dominate
C. Invite only top scorers
D. Punish every wrong answer
Answer: A. Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond
Explanation: Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use respectful routines and varied ways to respond: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Let interruptions dominate: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Invite only top scorers: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Punish every wrong answer: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 212 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ AD II Practice Page 100 What is a benefit of collaborative lesson planning?

A. It makes all classes identical
B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
C. It removes the need to assess
D. It guarantees no challenges

Answer: B. Teachers share expertise and align goals
Explanation: Teachers share expertise and align goals is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — It makes all classes identical: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Teachers share expertise and align goals: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — It removes the need to assess: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — It guarantees no challenges: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 213 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 214 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Answer: D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 215 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 216 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 217 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 218 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 219 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 7: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in classroom management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 220 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 221 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 222 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 223 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 224 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 225 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 226 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 14: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director II strengthens learner wellbeing when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 227 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 228 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 229 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 230 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 231 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 232 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 233 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 21: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in teaching and learning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 234 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 235 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 236 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 237 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 238 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 239 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 240 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 28: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director II strengthens professional development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 241 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 242 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate digital safety response

for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 243 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 244 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES

examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 245 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 246 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 247 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 35: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 248 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 249 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 250 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 251 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 252 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 253 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 254 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 42: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director II strengthens educational assessment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 255 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 256 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 257 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 258 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 259 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 260 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 261 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 49: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in parent and community engagement whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 262 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 263 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 264 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 265 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 266 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows

fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 267 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after receiving conflicting community feedback, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 268 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 56: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director II strengthens inclusive education when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 269 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 270 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 271 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 272 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 273 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 274 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school

preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 275 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 63: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in curriculum planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 276 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while reallocating limited teaching aids, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 277 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 278 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 279 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate classroom management

response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 280 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 281 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 282 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 70: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director II strengthens digital safety when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 283 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 284 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 285 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 286 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 287 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 288 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 289 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 77: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in classroom management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 290 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 291 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 292 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 293 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 294 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 295 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 296 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 84: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director II strengthens learner wellbeing when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 297 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 298 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 299 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 300 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 301 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 302 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 303 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 91: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in teaching and learning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 304 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 305 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 306 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 307 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 308 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 309 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 310 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 98: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, an Assistant Director II strengthens professional development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 311 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 312 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 313 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when reviewing lesson observation notes, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 314 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups

B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 315 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists

B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Answer: D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 316 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists

B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 317 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 105: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 318 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 319 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 320 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 321 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 322 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 323 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 324 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 112: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, an Assistant Director II strengthens educational assessment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 325 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 326 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 327 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 328 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 329 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 330 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 331 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 119: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in parent and community engagement whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 332 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 333 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when reviewing lesson observation notes, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 334 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when reviewing lesson observation notes, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 335 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 336 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 337 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists

B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 338 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 126: In a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, an Assistant Director II strengthens inclusive education when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 339 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 340 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 341 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 342 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 343 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 344 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 345 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 133: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in curriculum planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 346 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school

responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 347 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 348 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit ahead of a circuit quality visit, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 349 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 350 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 351 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 352 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 140: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, an Assistant Director II strengthens digital safety when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 353 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 354 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 355 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during subject panel discussions, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 356 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 357 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 358 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 359 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 147: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in classroom management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 360 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 361 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 362 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 363 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 364 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 365 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows

fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 366 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 154: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director II strengthens learner wellbeing when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 367 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 368 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during subject panel discussions, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 369 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 370 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 371 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 372 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 373 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 161: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in teaching and learning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 374 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 375 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 376 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 377 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 378 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 379 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 380 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 168: In a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director II strengthens professional development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 381 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 382 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 383 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during subject panel discussions, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 384 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 385 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 386 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 387 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 175: In a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 388 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 389 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention while setting department performance targets, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 390 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 391 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 392 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 393 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 182: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director II strengthens educational assessment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 394 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during mid-term review week, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Answer: D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 395 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 396 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 397 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 398 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 399 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 400 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 189: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in parent and community engagement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway:

in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 401 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 402 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 403 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 404 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 405 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 406 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 407 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 196: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director II strengthens inclusive education when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 408 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 409 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 410 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 411 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 412 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during subject panel discussions, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 413 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 414 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 203: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in curriculum planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 415 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 416 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 417 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 418 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 419 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 420 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 421 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 210: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, an Assistant Director II strengthens digital safety when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 422 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 423 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 424 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Answer: D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 425 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 426 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 427 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 428 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 217: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in classroom management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 429 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 430 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 431 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 432 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms ahead of a circuit quality visit, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 433 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 434 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 435 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 224: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, an Assistant Director II strengthens learner wellbeing when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 436 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 437 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 438 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 439 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 440 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 441 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 442 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 231: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in teaching and learning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 443 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate educational assessment

response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 444 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during mid-term review week, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 445 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 446 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 447 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 448 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 238: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, an Assistant Director II strengthens professional development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 449 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 450 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when reviewing lesson observation notes, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Answer: D. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 451 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 452 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 453 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 454 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 455 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 245: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 456 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 457 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 458 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 459 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 460 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 461 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 462 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 252: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, an Assistant Director II strengthens educational assessment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 463 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures

B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 464 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists

B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 465 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 466 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 467 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during a peer coaching cycle, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 468 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 469 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 259: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in parent and community engagement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 470 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 471 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 472 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during subject panel discussions, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 473 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 474 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 475 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 476 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 266: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, an Assistant Director II strengthens inclusive education when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 477 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 478 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a parents' association meeting, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 479 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions

Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 480 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 481 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 482 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 483 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 273: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in curriculum planning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 484 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 485 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 486 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 487 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 488 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 489 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 490 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 280: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, an Assistant Director II strengthens digital safety when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 491 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 492 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES

examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 493 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Answer: D. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 494 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 495 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 496 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 497 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 287: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in classroom management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 498 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 499 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 500 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately

Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 501 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 502 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 503 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 294: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, an Assistant Director II strengthens learner wellbeing when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 504 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 505 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 506 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 507 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Answer: D. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 508 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 509 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 510 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 301: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in teaching and learning whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 511 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 512 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 513 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 514 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience

Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 515 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 516 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 517 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 308: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, an Assistant Director II strengthens professional development when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 518 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 519 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 520 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Answer: D. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 521 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Answer: D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 522 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 523 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while setting department performance targets, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 524 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 315: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in professional ethics whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 525 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully

Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 526 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 527 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 528 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate parent and community engagement response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Answer: D. Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions
Explanation: Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions is best because it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Communicate progress honestly, invite constructive partnership, and keep records of agreed actions: it applies parent and community engagement standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 529 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 530 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners

Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 531 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 322: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, an Assistant Director II strengthens educational assessment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 532 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 533 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 534 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate inclusive education response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Answer: D. Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully
Explanation: Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Adapt instruction and assessment so learners with diverse needs can participate meaningfully: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 535 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Answer: D. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 536 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 537 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 329: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in parent and community engagement whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in parent and community engagement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 538 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 539 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 540 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind

Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 541 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate curriculum planning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching

Explanation: Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching is best because it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Sequence learning intentions, align activities to the curriculum, and review schemes with colleagues before teaching: it applies curriculum planning standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 542 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate learner wellbeing response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel
Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in learner wellbeing, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures promptly, protect learner dignity, and escalate credible concerns through the proper channel: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 543 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while setting department performance targets, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate professional ethics response for an Assistant Director II?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Answer: D. Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience
Explanation: Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional ethics, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Act with integrity, avoid conflicts of interest, and put learner welfare above personal convenience: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 544 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 336: In a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, an Assistant Director II strengthens inclusive education when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in inclusive education, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 545 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate classroom management response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time

Explanation: Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time is best because it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in classroom management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set clear routines, reinforce expectations consistently, and address behaviour in ways that preserve learning time: it applies classroom management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 546 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate professional development response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction

Explanation: Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction is best because structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional development, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Share effective practice through structured peer learning and reflect on feedback to improve instruction: structured peer learning lets teachers exchange evidence-based methods and improve together.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 547 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate digital safety response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes

C. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately
Explanation: Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in digital safety, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Teach responsible technology use, protect learner data, and report online safety concerns appropriately: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 548 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate teaching and learning response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners
Explanation: Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in teaching and learning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Plan differentiated lessons, check understanding during learning, and adjust teaching using evidence from learners: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 549 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As a classroom teacher and first-line instructional leader supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate educational assessment response for an Assistant Director II?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Answer: D. Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind
Explanation: Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind is best because it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in educational assessment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Use valid assessment purposes, share clear success criteria, and interpret scores with reliability and fairness in mind: it applies educational assessment standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 550 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 343: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, an Assistant Director II may skip documented procedures in curriculum planning whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in curriculum planning, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Source & verification note

Practice resource only. The published set for this rank contains 550 distinct items. No item in this guide is labelled human-verified. Do not cite these keys as official GES examination answers. Cross-rank exact duplicates are not counted toward the 550 target.