GIGALEARN · TEACHER PROMOTION PRACTICE

Deputy Director (DD)

550 distinct practice questions with answers (target 550 · gap 0)
MCQ: 466 · True/False: 84 · Verified: 0 · Review required: all published items

This is an independent GigaLearn practice resource, not an official Ghana Education Service examination paper. Cross-rank duplicate stems were removed so the same question is not counted in multiple rank banks. Answer keys remain SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED.
Rank focus: Institutional management, monitoring, resource accountability.

Practice question bank

Question 1 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as a Deputy Director in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound finance and accountability judgement?
A. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels
B. Destroying evidence
C. Conducting an unauthorised public accusation
D. Ignoring the concern
Answer: A. Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels
Explanation: Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels is best because it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in finance and accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Promptly reporting suspected misuse through authorised channels: it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Destroying evidence: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conducting an unauthorised public accusation: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring the concern: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 2 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as a Deputy Director in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound programme management judgement?
A. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
B. A budget without a delivery plan
C. A report with no responsibilities
D. A list of activities without expected results
Answer: A. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
Explanation: A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates is best because it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in programme management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates: it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A budget without a delivery plan: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A report with no responsibilities: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A list of activities without expected results: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 3 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
While working as a Deputy Director in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. Which response best reflects sound quality assurance judgement?
A. Ignoring unintended consequences
B. Counting inputs only
C. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
D. One metric used to represent all quality
Answer: C. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
Explanation: A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignoring unintended consequences: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Counting inputs only: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — One metric used to represent all quality: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 4 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as a Deputy Director in a school supporting newly posted teachers, colleagues report that new teachers lack mentoring support. Which response best reflects sound risk and compliance judgement?

A. Assuming policies enforce themselves
B. Informal memory as the only control
C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates
D. A risk register with no owners

Answer: C. Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates

Explanation: Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates is best because it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assuming policies enforce themselves: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Informal memory as the only control: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Documenting controls, responsible persons and review dates: it applies risk and compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A risk register with no owners: it does not apply the risk and compliance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 5 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as a Deputy Director in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound school improvement judgement?

A. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility
B. Ignoring implementation capacity
C. Launching every initiative at once
D. Choosing actions only because they are fashionable

Answer: A. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility

Explanation: Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Ignoring implementation capacity: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Launching every initiative at once: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Choosing actions only because they are fashionable: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 6 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of examination integrity, what should be prioritised?

A. Allowing unauthorised access
B. Changing rules secretly for selected candidates
C. Failing to document irregularities
D. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
Answer: D. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
Explanation: Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling is best because it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in examination integrity, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Allowing unauthorised access: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Changing rules secretly for selected candidates: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Incorrect — Failing to document irregularities: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling: it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 7 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as a Deputy Director in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound examination integrity judgement?
A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
B. Changing rules secretly for selected candidates
C. Failing to document irregularities
D. Allowing unauthorised access
Answer: A. Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling
Explanation: Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling is best because it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in examination integrity, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Using secure procedures, fair conditions and documented incident handling: it applies examination integrity standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Changing rules secretly for selected candidates: withholding effective practice prevents colleagues from learning and limits collective improvement.
Incorrect — Failing to document irregularities: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Allowing unauthorised access: it does not apply the examination integrity principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 8 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of finance and accountability, what should be prioritised?
A. Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable
B. One person controlling every step without review
C. No supporting documents
D. Reconciling only when problems arise
Answer: A. Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable
Explanation: Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable is best because it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in finance and accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Separating authorisation, payment and reconciliation where practicable: it applies finance and accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — One person controlling every step without review: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — No supporting documents: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Reconciling only when problems arise: it does not apply the finance and accountability principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 9 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of programme management, what should be prioritised?
A. A budget without a delivery plan
B. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
C. A list of activities without expected results
D. A report with no responsibilities
Answer: B. A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates
Explanation: A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates is best because it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in programme management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — A budget without a delivery plan: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A work plan linking activities, outputs, outcomes, owners and dates: it applies programme management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — A list of activities without expected results: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A report with no responsibilities: it does not apply the programme management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 10 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of quality assurance, what should be prioritised?
A. Counting inputs only
B. Ignoring unintended consequences
C. One metric used to represent all quality
D. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
Answer: D. A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes
Explanation: A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes is best because it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in quality assurance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Counting inputs only: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring unintended consequences: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — One metric used to represent all quality: it does not apply the quality assurance principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — A balanced set of indicators covering access, process and learning outcomes: it applies quality assurance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 11 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of resource management, what should be prioritised?
A. Ignoring expenditure limits
B. Spending first and planning later
C. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds
D. Allocating funds without objectives
Answer: C. Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds
Explanation: Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds is best because it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Ignoring expenditure limits: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Spending first and planning later: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Budgeting aligned with approved priorities and available funds: it applies resource management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Allocating funds without objectives: it does not apply the resource management principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 12 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of resource stewardship, what should be prioritised?

A. Personal use without approval
B. Ignoring waste and maintenance
C. Using public resources for authorised educational purposes
D. No records of allocation

Answer: C. Using public resources for authorised educational purposes

Explanation: Using public resources for authorised educational purposes is best because it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource stewardship, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Personal use without approval: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring waste and maintenance: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Using public resources for authorised educational purposes: it applies resource stewardship standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — No records of allocation: it does not apply the resource stewardship principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 13 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

If a decision must be defensible and fair in the area of school improvement, what should be prioritised?

A. Choosing actions only because they are fashionable
B. Ignoring implementation capacity
C. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility
D. Launching every initiative at once

Answer: C. Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility

Explanation: Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in school improvement, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Choosing actions only because they are fashionable: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignoring implementation capacity: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Prioritising actions based on evidence, impact and feasibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Launching every initiative at once: it does not apply the school improvement principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 14 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

While working as a Deputy Director in a senior high school preparing for mock exams, colleagues report that learner performance is uneven across streams. Which response best reflects sound data and research judgement?

A. Hiding contradictory findings
B. Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly
C. Presenting estimates as certainties
D. Claiming more than the data support

Answer: B. Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly
Explanation: Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly is best because it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in data and research, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hiding contradictory findings: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Reporting limitations and uncertainty honestly: it applies data and research standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Presenting estimates as certainties: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Claiming more than the data support: it does not apply the data and research principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 15 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 3 Which assessment best matches an objective to compare two ideas?
A. A task requiring comparison
B. An unrelated spelling test
C. An attendance register
D. A task asking only for a date
Answer: A. A task requiring comparison
Explanation: A task requiring comparison is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — A task requiring comparison: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — An unrelated spelling test: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — An attendance register: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — A task asking only for a date: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 16 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 5 Which practice promotes critical thinking?
A. Accept every claim without examination
B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence
C. Require copying only
D. Discourage questions
Answer: B. Ask learners to justify claims with evidence
Explanation: Ask learners to justify claims with evidence is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Accept every claim without examination: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Ask learners to justify claims with evidence: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Require copying only: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discourage questions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 17 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 7 What is the main purpose of a lesson objective?
A. Replace assessment
B. Record teacher attendance
C. State the intended learning outcome

D. List every school rule
Answer: C. State the intended learning outcome
Explanation: State the intended learning outcome is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Replace assessment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Record teacher attendance: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — State the intended learning outcome: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — List every school rule: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 18 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 9 How should an allegation against a staff member be handled?
A. Assume guilt immediately
B. Delete records
C. Discuss details with everyone
D. Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process
Answer: D. Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process
Explanation: Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Assume guilt immediately: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Delete records: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discuss details with everyone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow relevant policy, preserve confidentiality and ensure fair process: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 19 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 11 One data point always proves the cause of a school problem. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 20 · TRUE / FALSE

Formative assessment can help a teacher adjust instruction during learning. TRUE GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 21 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 21 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 22 What should guide selection of a teaching resource?

A. Colour alone
B. Price alone
C. Whether it avoids the objective
D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Answer: D. Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility

Explanation: Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Colour alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Price alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Whether it avoids the objective: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Learning goals, learner needs, accuracy and accessibility: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 22 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 24 What is sound data-informed leadership?

A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement
B. Treat one figure as the whole truth
C. Ignore context
D. Alter records to fit expectations

Answer: A. Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement

Explanation: Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Use relevant evidence alongside professional judgement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat one figure as the whole truth: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Alter records to fit expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 23 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 26 Why engage stakeholders in school improvement?

A. Give one person all decision power
B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility
C. Remove professional judgement
D. Guarantee unanimous agreement

Answer: B. Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility

Explanation: Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Give one person all decision power: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Gain relevant perspectives and build shared responsibility: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Remove professional judgement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee unanimous agreement: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 24 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 28 Which is an example of professional reflection?
A. Blame learners for every difficulty
B. Ignore feedback
C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
D. Repeat lessons without review
Answer: C. Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement
Explanation: Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Blame learners for every difficulty: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Review lesson evidence and plan an improvement: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Repeat lessons without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 25 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 30 Collaborative planning can help teachers share expertise. TRUE FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 26 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 41 Which approach best supports a new teacher?
A. Avoid feedback until year end
B. Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure
C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
D. Assign duties without explanation
Answer: C. Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice
Explanation: Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Avoid feedback until year end: avoiding feedback removes a chance to identify weaknesses and improve practice.
Incorrect — Expect instant knowledge of every local procedure: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Provide orientation, mentoring and discussion of practice: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assign duties without explanation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 27 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 43 What is an useful first step in planning an intervention?

A. Choose an activity before identifying need
B. Promise results without baseline data
C. Avoid consultation
D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Answer: D. Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome

Explanation: Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Choose an activity before identifying need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Promise results without baseline data: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Avoid consultation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Define the problem with evidence and identify the desired outcome: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 28 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 45 How should a parent concern be handled?

A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps
B. Dismiss the parent immediately
C. Promise an outcome before checking
D. Reveal another learner's record

Answer: A. Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps

Explanation: Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Listen respectfully, establish facts and agree on next steps: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Dismiss the parent immediately: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Promise an outcome before checking: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Reveal another learner's record: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 29 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 47 Monitoring shows an intervention is not working. What next?

A. Blame one person without inquiry
B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it
C. Hide results
D. Continue indefinitely

Answer: B. Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it

Explanation: Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Blame one person without inquiry: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Review evidence, consult relevant people and adapt it: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide results: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Continue indefinitely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 30 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 49 A rubric can describe criteria for different performance levels. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 31 · TRUE / FALSE

Assessment should align with the learning objective it measures. TRUE GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 59 FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 32 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 60 What does differentiated instruction aim to do?

A. Use one method regardless of need
B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
C. Remove all challenge
D. Ignore evidence
Answer: B. Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs
Explanation: Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Use one method regardless of need: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Adapt teaching or support to learner readiness and needs: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Remove all challenge: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore evidence: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 33 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 62 How should confidential learner information be handled?

A. Discuss it casually in public
B. Send it to all contacts
C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
D. Post it publicly
Answer: C. Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose
Explanation: Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Discuss it casually in public: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Send it to all contacts: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Share only with authorised people who need it for a legitimate purpose: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Post it publicly: weak information controls risk loss, breach, or irreversible deletion of important records.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 34 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 64 A learner reports a safeguarding concern. What is the appropriate response?

A. Promise absolute secrecy
B. Discuss it widely
C. Ignore it without assessment
D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person

Answer: D. Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person

Explanation: Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person is best because following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Promise absolute secrecy: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Discuss it widely: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Ignore it without assessment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Follow safeguarding procedures and report to the responsible person: following safeguarding procedures protects learners and ensures concerns are handled through proper channels.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 35 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 66 Many learners misunderstand a concept. What should the teacher do?

A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding
B. Continue without adjustment
C. Blame the learners
D. Remove the topic

Answer: A. Re-teach with another approach and check understanding

Explanation: Re-teach with another approach and check understanding is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Re-teach with another approach and check understanding: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Continue without adjustment: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Blame the learners: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Remove the topic: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 36 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 68 If an intervention is not working, leaders should never change it. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 37 · TRUE / FALSE

A teacher should promise absolute secrecy about a safeguarding concern. TRUE GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 78 FALSE
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 38 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 79 How should digital learning tools be used responsibly?
A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
B. Assume every answer is correct
C. Upload private data anywhere
D. Use technology even when it obstructs learning
Answer: A. Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value
Explanation: Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Check accuracy, privacy, accessibility and learning value: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Assume every answer is correct: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Upload private data anywhere: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Use technology even when it obstructs learning: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 39 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 81 What is the purpose of a rubric?
A. Hide expectations
B. Describe criteria and performance levels
C. Replace task instructions
D. Guarantee identical scores
Answer: B. Describe criteria and performance levels
Explanation: Describe criteria and performance levels is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Hide expectations: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Describe criteria and performance levels: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Replace task instructions: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Guarantee identical scores: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 40 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 83 What supports continuity when a school project changes leadership?

A. Discard decisions without review
B. Avoid documentation
C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes
D. Keep all information with one person

Answer: C. Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes

Explanation: Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Discard decisions without review: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Avoid documentation: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Clear records, responsibilities and handover notes: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Keep all information with one person: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 41 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 85 What is the best use of classroom observation?

A. Judge personal style alone
B. Embarrass the teacher
C. Conclude without observing
D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria

Answer: D. Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria

Explanation: Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Judge personal style alone: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Embarrass the teacher: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Incorrect — Conclude without observing: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.
Correct — Gather evidence against agreed teaching and learning criteria: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 42 · TRUE / FALSE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 87 A respectful classroom climate can support learner participation. TRUE FALSE

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 43 · TRUE / FALSE

Clear success criteria help learners understand expectations. TRUE GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 97 FALSE

A. True

B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in true / false — promotion aptitude, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 44 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 98 Which feedback is most constructive?

A. A personal insult

B. A score with no context

C. Public shaming

D. Specific feedback with a next step

Answer: D. Specific feedback with a next step

Explanation: Specific feedback with a next step is best because it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — A personal insult: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — A score with no context: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Public shaming: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Correct — Specific feedback with a next step: it applies professional practice standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 45 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

GigaLearn ■ DD Practice Page 100 Which practice best supports formative assessment?

A. Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching

B. Wait until the end of the year to assess

C. Give marks without feedback

D. Assess only volunteers

Answer: A. Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching

Explanation: Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in professional practice, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Use evidence during instruction to adjust teaching: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Wait until the end of the year to assess: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Give marks without feedback: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Incorrect — Assess only volunteers: it does not apply the professional practice principle required here and would weaken fair, evidence-informed support for learners or staff.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 46 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 47 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 48 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 49 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 50 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 51 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 52 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 7: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 53 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during induction of newly posted staff, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 54 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 55 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 56 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 57 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after receiving conflicting community feedback, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 58 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 59 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 14: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 60 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 61 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 62 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 63 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 64 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 65 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 66 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 21: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 67 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 68 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 69 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 70 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 71 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 72 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 73 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 28: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 74 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 75 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 76 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 77 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 78 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 79 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 80 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 35: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 81 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 82 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 83 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 84 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 85 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 86 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 87 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 42: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 88 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 89 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 90 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 91 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 92 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 93 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 94 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 49: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 95 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 96 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 97 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during mid-term review week, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 98 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 99 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 100 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 101 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 56: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 102 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 103 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 104 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 105 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 106 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 107 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 108 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 63: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 109 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 110 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 111 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 112 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 113 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 114 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 115 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 70: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 116 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 117 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 118 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 119 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 120 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 121 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 122 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 77: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 123 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 124 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when reviewing lesson observation notes, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 125 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 126 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 127 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during subject panel discussions, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 128 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 129 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 84: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 130 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 131 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when updating the school improvement plan, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 132 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention ahead of a circuit quality visit, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 133 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 134 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 135 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 136 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 91: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 137 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 138 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances following a learner wellbeing referral, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 139 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 140 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 141 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 142 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 143 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 98: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 144 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 145 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate change management response for a

Deputy Director?
A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 146 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 147 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 148 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 149 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 150 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 105: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 151 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 152 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 153 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 154 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 155 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 156 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 157 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 112: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 158 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 159 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 160 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 161 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 162 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 163 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 164 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 119: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 165 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when digitising paper assessment records, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 166 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 167 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 168 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 169 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 170 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while reallocating limited teaching aids, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 171 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 126: In a school introducing a new subject timetable during induction of newly posted staff, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 172 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 173 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 174 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 175 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers when updating the school improvement plan, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 176 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 177 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 178 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 133: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 179 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline ahead of a circuit quality visit, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 180 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 181 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed

action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 182 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 183 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 184 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 185 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 140: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 186 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 187 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 188 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 189 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 190 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 191 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 192 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 147: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 193 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 194 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 195 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 196 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 197 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 198 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 199 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 154: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 200 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 201 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 202 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 203 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while reallocating limited teaching aids, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 204 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a near-miss safety incident, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 205 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while setting department performance targets, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 206 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 161: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 207 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 208 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 209 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 210 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 211 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 212 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 168: In a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 213 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during subject panel discussions, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 214 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 215 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 216 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 217 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during subject panel discussions, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 218 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when reviewing lesson observation notes, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 219 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 175: In a school supporting newly posted teachers after a near-miss safety incident, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 220 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 221 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 222 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 223 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when digitising paper assessment records, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 224 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 225 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 226 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 182: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 227 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 228 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a parents' association meeting, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 229 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 230 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 231 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 232 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 233 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 189: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit when updating the school improvement plan, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 234 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 235 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 236 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when updating the school improvement plan, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 237 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 238 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 239 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 196: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while setting department performance targets, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 240 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 241 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 242 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 243 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 244 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 245 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 246 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 203: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 247 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 248 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 249 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when moderating end-of-term scripts, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 250 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 251 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 252 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 253 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 210: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during subject panel discussions, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 254 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 255 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 256 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 257 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 258 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 259 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 260 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 217: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when digitising paper assessment records, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 261 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 262 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit when reviewing lesson observation notes, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 263 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 264 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 265 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 266 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 224: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline following a learner wellbeing referral, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 267 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 268 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 269 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 270 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 271 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 272 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 273 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 231: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 274 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 275 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 276 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 277 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 278 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 279 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 238: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records during a peer coaching cycle, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 280 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 281 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 282 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 283 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 284 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 285 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 245: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 286 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 287 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 288 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 289 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 290 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 291 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 292 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 252: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 293 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 294 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 295 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 296 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 297 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 298 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances when updating the school improvement plan, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 299 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 259: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 300 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a parents' association meeting, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 301 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable during mid-term review week, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 302 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during induction of newly posted staff, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 303 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 304 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after analysing three weeks of attendance data, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 305 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 306 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 266: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms during induction of newly posted staff, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 307 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 308 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 309 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 310 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 311 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 312 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 313 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 273: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 314 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 315 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 316 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable when digitising paper assessment records, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 317 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 318 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 319 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 320 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 280: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during mid-term review week, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 321 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 322 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 323 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during subject panel discussions, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 324 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 325 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum while planning remedial support for struggling learners, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 326 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 327 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 287: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 328 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 329 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 330 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 331 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 332 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 333 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 334 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 294: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 335 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 336 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when digitising paper assessment records, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 337 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a parents' association meeting, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 338 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 339 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 340 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during induction of newly posted staff, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 341 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 301: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 342 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 343 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 344 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 345 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 308: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 346 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 347 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 348 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question.

Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 349 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after a parents' association meeting, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 350 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during mid-term review week, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 351 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 315: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 352 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during mid-term review week, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 353 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 354 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 355 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after receiving conflicting community feedback, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 356 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 357 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after a near-miss safety incident, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 358 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 322: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 359 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when digitising paper assessment records, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 360 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 361 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 362 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after a near-miss safety incident, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 363 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when reviewing lesson observation notes, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 364 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 365 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 329: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline when updating the school improvement plan, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 366 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 367 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 368 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 369 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 370 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 371 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 336: In a school introducing a new subject timetable while setting department performance targets, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 372 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 373 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 374 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 375 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 376 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during subject panel discussions, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 377 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team

report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 378 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 343: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 379 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when moderating end-of-term scripts, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 380 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 381 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 382 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 383 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 384 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during induction of newly posted staff, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 385 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 350: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during subject panel discussions, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 386 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates while setting department performance targets, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 387 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 388 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 389 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 390 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 357: In a school strengthening girl-child retention when digitising paper assessment records, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 391 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 392 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 393 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a parents' association meeting, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 394 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 395 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while setting department performance targets, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 396 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during subject panel discussions, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 397 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 364: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 398 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when digitising paper assessment records, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 399 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable ahead of a circuit quality visit, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 400 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a near-miss safety incident, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 401 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 402 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during mid-term review week, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 403 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers following a learner wellbeing referral, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate change management

response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 404 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 371: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 405 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 406 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 407 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 408 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after a near-miss safety incident, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 409 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when digitising paper assessment records, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 410 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams following a learner wellbeing referral, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 411 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 378: In a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 412 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 413 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 414 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after analysing three weeks of attendance data, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 415 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 416 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when moderating end-of-term scripts, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 417 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, circuit officers report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 418 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 385: In a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 419 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 420 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention when updating the school improvement plan, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 421 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after receiving conflicting community feedback, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 422 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 423 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 424 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 425 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 392: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams while planning remedial support for struggling learners, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 426 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances during induction of newly posted staff, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Answer: D. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 427 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when moderating end-of-term scripts, the guidance team report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 428 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources when updating the school improvement plan, the guidance team report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 429 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 430 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 399: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 431 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers after receiving conflicting community feedback, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 432 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 433 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 434 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 435 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 436 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 437 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 406: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during induction of newly posted staff, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 438 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 439 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances while reallocating limited teaching aids, the assessment committee report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 440 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 441 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the assessment committee report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 442 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and

evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 443 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after a parents' association meeting, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 444 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 413: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 445 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit while reallocating limited teaching aids, circuit officers report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy

D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 446 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during induction of newly posted staff, circuit officers report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 447 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, circuit officers report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 448 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during subject panel discussions, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 449 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 450 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 451 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 420: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 452 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during a peer coaching cycle, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 453 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 454 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance during a peer coaching cycle, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 455 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 456 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable after receiving conflicting community feedback, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Answer: D. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 457 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 427: In a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while reallocating limited teaching aids, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 458 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 459 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 460 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers while reallocating limited teaching aids, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 461 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 462 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 463 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 464 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 434: In a school responding to community concerns about discipline during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 465 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 466 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, newly posted teachers report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 467 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 468 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 469 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance following a learner wellbeing referral, the assessment committee report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 470 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources during mid-term review week, the assessment committee report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 471 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 441: In a school introducing a new subject timetable after a parents' association meeting, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 472 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 473 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when reviewing lesson observation notes, department heads report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 474 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, circuit officers report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 475 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Answer: D. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 476 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while planning remedial support for struggling learners, circuit officers report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 477 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 478 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 448: In a school digitising attendance and assessment records after analysing three weeks of attendance data, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 479 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline when reviewing lesson observation notes, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 480 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that learner performance is uneven across streams. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Answer: D. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 481 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit when updating the school improvement plan, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 482 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams while reallocating limited teaching aids, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 483 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 484 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 485 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 455: In a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after a near-miss safety incident, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.

A. True
B. False

Answer: FALSE

Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.

Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 486 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 487 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the academic board report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 488 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 489 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the PTA executive report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 490 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school supporting newly posted teachers following a learner wellbeing referral, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 491 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the PTA executive report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 492 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 462: In a school strengthening girl-child retention while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, a Deputy Director strengthens monitoring and evaluation when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 493 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when reviewing lesson observation notes, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 494 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during a peer coaching cycle, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 495 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum when updating the school improvement plan, newly posted teachers report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 496 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a parents' association meeting, newly posted teachers report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 497 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when reviewing lesson observation notes, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 498 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances during a peer coaching cycle, the assessment committee report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 499 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 469: In a school recovering from disrupted attendance when updating the school improvement plan, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in community partnerships whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 500 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after analysing three weeks of attendance data, the assessment committee report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 501 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary when updating the school improvement plan, department heads report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 502 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates ahead of a circuit quality visit, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 503 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school supporting newly posted teachers ahead of a circuit quality visit, circuit officers report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 504 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 476: In a school with mixed-ability classrooms while setting department performance targets, a Deputy Director strengthens risk and safeguarding when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 505 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during induction of newly posted staff, the school leadership team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 506 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school digitising attendance and assessment records after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the school leadership team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process
Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 507 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 508 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the subject panel report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 509 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after a near-miss safety incident, the subject panel report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 510 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams during subject panel discussions, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 511 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 483: In a school with many learners who travel long distances when moderating end-of-term scripts, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in resource accountability whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 512 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance when reviewing lesson observation notes, the guidance team report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 513 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after receiving conflicting community feedback, the guidance team report that resources are unevenly shared across departments. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context

Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 514 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable while planning remedial support for struggling learners, the academic board report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 515 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary while setting department performance targets, the academic board report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions

Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 516 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school where parents request clearer progress updates when updating the school improvement plan, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 517 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit after a parents' association meeting, the PTA executive report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 518 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 490: In a school supporting newly posted teachers during subject panel discussions, a Deputy Director strengthens change management when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 519 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when reviewing lesson observation notes, the PTA executive report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.

Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 520 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, the quality assurance team report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 521 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records following a learner wellbeing referral, the quality assurance team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: B. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 522 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline while reallocating limited teaching aids, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Answer: D. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall

Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 523 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum after receiving conflicting community feedback, newly posted teachers report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?

A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 524 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a basic school in a peri-urban circuit during preparation for a stakeholder briefing, newly posted teachers report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 525 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 497: In a senior high school preparing for mock exams when digitising paper assessment records, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in performance management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 526 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an afternoon remedial group in a school with many learners who travel long distances after a near-miss safety incident, the assessment committee report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate policy compliance response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Answer: D. Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process

Explanation: Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process is best because it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Interpret policy requirements accurately and implement them without bypassing due process: it applies policy compliance standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 527 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school recovering from disrupted attendance while setting department performance targets, the assessment committee report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Answer: D. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value

Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.

Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.

Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.

Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 528 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources while preparing the termly professional learning calendar, the assessment committee report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition

Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 529 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school introducing a new subject timetable while planning remedial support for struggling learners, department heads report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image

Answer: B. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery

Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 530 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during a peer coaching cycle, department heads report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: A. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 531 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school where parents request clearer progress updates after a near-miss safety incident, department heads report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.

Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 532 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 504: In a school preparing a quality assurance visit following a learner wellbeing referral, a Deputy Director strengthens staff deployment when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.

A. True
B. False

Answer: TRUE

Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.

Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.

Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 533 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school with mixed-ability classrooms when reviewing lesson observation notes, circuit officers report that leaders struggle to prioritise competing improvement goals. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight

Answer: B. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur

Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.

Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.

Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 534 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school strengthening girl-child retention during mid-term review week, the school leadership team report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 535 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school responding to community concerns about discipline after a near-miss safety incident, the school leadership team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
D. Hide weak results to protect the institution's image
Answer: C. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Hide weak results to protect the institution's image: hiding weak results blocks honest diagnosis and prevents targeted improvement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 536 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a maths stream in a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum during mid-term review week, the subject panel report that timetable clashes reduce practical lesson time. What is the most appropriate change management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response

C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: C. Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition
Explanation: Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition is best because it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in change management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Sequence change, communicate rationale, and support staff through transition: it applies change management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 537 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 511: In a basic school in a peri-urban circuit after receiving conflicting community feedback, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in institutional management whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 538 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a senior high school preparing for mock exams when moderating end-of-term scripts, the subject panel report that instructional time is lost to unplanned assemblies. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings
Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 539 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school with many learners who travel long distances ahead of a circuit quality visit, the guidance team report that parents receive conflicting messages about homework. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: A. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 540 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school recovering from disrupted attendance after a parents' association meeting, the guidance team report that inclusion plans exist on paper but not in daily practice. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 541 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting JHS final-year classes in a cluster of schools sharing limited teaching resources after discovering inconsistent marking across streams, the guidance team report that community partners want involvement without clear roles. What is the most appropriate district coordination response for a Deputy Director?
A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context
Explanation: Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context is best because it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Correct — Coordinate schools around shared standards while respecting local context: it applies district coordination standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 542 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting SHS form two classes in a school introducing a new subject timetable following a learner wellbeing referral, the academic board report that teachers disagree about marking standards. What is the most appropriate risk and safeguarding response for a Deputy Director?

A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence
Answer: A. Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur
Explanation: Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur is best because it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in risk and safeguarding, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — Maintain clear escalation routes and rehearse response roles before incidents occur: it applies risk and safeguarding standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 543 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a newly merged department in a school with rising enrolment in lower primary during a peer coaching cycle, the academic board report that assessment data is collected but rarely discussed. What is the most appropriate performance management response for a Deputy Director?

A. Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups
B. Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Answer: D. Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions
Explanation: Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in performance management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Focus only on high performers and ignore struggling groups: serving only high performers widens equity gaps and neglects learners who need support.
Incorrect — Blame individuals publicly without examining system causes: public blame without system analysis damages trust and misses root causes.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Correct — Set fair expectations, evidence judgements, and support improvement before sanctions: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 544 · TRUE / FALSE
Statement 518: In a school where parents request clearer progress updates during a peer coaching cycle, a Deputy Director strengthens policy compliance when decisions are evidence-informed, documented, and oriented to learner welfare.
A. True
B. False
Answer: TRUE
Explanation: True is best because the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in policy compliance, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Correct — True: the statement correctly reflects a defensible professional principle in education practice.
Incorrect — False: rejecting a sound principle would leave practice without the safeguard the statement describes.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 545 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a boarding house cohort in a school preparing a quality assurance visit during induction of newly posted staff, the PTA executive report that exam malpractice risks are rising under pressure. What is the most appropriate community partnerships response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
C. Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: B. Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value
Explanation: Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in community partnerships, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Correct — Define partnership roles, protect learner interests, and evaluate partnership value: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Use punishment as the first and only improvement strategy: punishment-first strategies ignore coaching, capacity, and the conditions that enable improvement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 546 · MULTIPLE CHOICE
As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting an English stream in a school with mixed-ability classrooms during a peer coaching cycle, the PTA executive report that safeguarding information arrives late. What is the most appropriate institutional management response for a Deputy Director?
A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting
C. Apply one rigid method to every learner and context
D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Answer: D. Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery
Explanation: Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery is best because it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in institutional management, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Incorrect — Apply one rigid method to every learner and context: one rigid method ignores learner needs, subject differences, and local context.

Correct — Align people, time, and resources to agreed institutional priorities and monitor delivery: it applies institutional management standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 547 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting a science cohort in a school strengthening girl-child retention after a near-miss safety incident, the quality assurance team report that new teachers lack mentoring support. What is the most appropriate monitoring and evaluation response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient
D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Answer: D. Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings

Explanation: Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings is best because it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in monitoring and evaluation, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Incorrect — Treat policy documents as optional when they are inconvenient: treating binding policy as optional invites inconsistency and compliance risk.
Correct — Track leading and lagging indicators, verify data quality, and act on findings: it applies monitoring and evaluation standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 548 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting lower primary classes in a school digitising attendance and assessment records when digitising paper assessment records, the quality assurance team report that lesson observation feedback is delayed. What is the most appropriate resource accountability response for a Deputy Director?

A. Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists
B. Delay action until external pressure forces a response
C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources
D. Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence

Answer: C. Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources

Explanation: Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources is best because it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in resource accountability, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.

Incorrect — Collect more data indefinitely without reviewing what already exists: endless data collection without review wastes time that could improve practice now.
Incorrect — Delay action until external pressure forces a response: delaying action lets the problem grow and withholds timely support from learners and staff.
Correct — Record allocations, reconcile use against plans, and prevent diversion of school resources: it applies resource accountability standards with practical steps that protect learning quality, fairness, and evidence-informed action.
Incorrect — Outsource judgement to rumours instead of verified evidence: acting on rumour instead of verified evidence leads to unfair or unsafe decisions.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 549 · MULTIPLE CHOICE

As an institutional manager coordinating people, data, and resources supporting upper primary classes in a school responding to community concerns about discipline during induction of newly posted staff, the quality assurance team report that professional learning is ad hoc and poorly recorded. What is the most appropriate staff deployment response for a Deputy Director?

A. Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures
B. Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting

C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
D. Skip consultation and impose changes overnight
Answer: C. Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall
Explanation: Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall is best because evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in staff deployment, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — Rely on informal personal favours instead of documented procedures: informal favours replace fair procedures with uneven treatment and weak accountability.
Incorrect — Reward silence about problems rather than early reporting: rewarding silence discourages early reporting and allows risks to escalate.
Correct — Match teacher strengths to learner needs and review deployment when outcomes stall: evidence-informed, fair procedures protect learners while enabling professional judgement.
Incorrect — Skip consultation and impose changes overnight: imposing change without consultation reduces ownership and often creates resistance.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Question 550 · TRUE / FALSE

Statement 525: In a school aligning schemes of work to the current curriculum ahead of a circuit quality visit, a Deputy Director may skip documented procedures in district coordination whenever results appear urgent.
A. True
B. False
Answer: FALSE
Explanation: False is best because the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem. This is an original GigaLearn practice item — not an official GES examination question. Learning takeaway: in district coordination, choose the option that uses evidence, protects learners, and follows fair professional process — not shortcuts that hide problems.
Incorrect — True: the statement overstates or misstates a professional principle when checked against sound practice.
Correct — False: the statement is false because it contradicts sound professional standards described in the stem.
Verification: SOURCE ANSWER — REVIEW REQUIRED

Source & verification note

Practice resource only. The published set for this rank contains 550 distinct items. No item in this guide is labelled human-verified. Do not cite these keys as official GES examination answers. Cross-rank exact duplicates are not counted toward the 550 target.